The Republican city convention elected candidates to run for office in the city election, April 5, to fill vacancies which expire this spring at their meeting in the Assembly Room of the court house, Saturday night.

Carl G. Schrader called the meeting to order, and was unanimously elected as chairman, and H. M. Young as secretary, read the roll call of delegates.

The chairman appointed the following committees: Members of the committee on Credentials were T. H. Yount, John Hughes, Glenn Knell, Guy Peabody.

Members of the committee on organization and order of business were: W. D. Smith, Mrs. Fredonia Kingsbury, L. L. Studer, Carl Urban. The Resolutions committee was: Miss Hazel Palmer, chairman, Paul Hausam, and Richard Keenan.

The delegates adjourned to their respective ward caucuses, and when they returned a report on credentials was given by T. H. Yount.

The chairman then directed that the body make ratifications and presentation of candidates from each ward. L. H. Hodges, 1503 West Third street, was presented for ratification as candidate for councilman from the First ward by L. L. Studer.

Richard Keenan, 1413 East Fourth street, was nominated and accepted for councilman from the Second ward to succeed himself by Guy Brownfield.

Carl Urban, by unanimous vote of the Third ward, nominated Truman J. McMillin, 802 East Ninth street, for short term for councilman from the Third ward, and Urban presented for ratification as candidate for councilman for a long term from the Third ward, Sherman H. Meyer, 2003 East Broadway.

For Fourth ward councilman, Chester Wolfe, presented Harry Spillers, 1507 South Barrett avenue, for ratification.

Members of the city committee for each precinct were then selected for one year. They were: First ward: Amos Schroder, Mrs. Larry Siebert; second precinct, T. H. Yount, Mrs. Fred Rose; third precinct; J. T. Ferrell, and Mrs. Opal C. Valentine.

No City Attorney Candidate

The convention did not elect a candidate for city attorney. Chester Wolfe was nominated, but declined. Mr. Wolfe said that he appreciated the delegates' confidence but for personal reasons, and private business, he said he could not run.

J. Roy Fullerton, 912 West Seventh street, was nominated for member of the school board to succeed himself. He was nominated by acclamation.

Endorse Air Field Site

A report of the Resolutions committee was given by Miss Hazel Palmer, chairman, submitted by Guy Brownfield, S. C. Hoffman, Paul Hausam and Miss Hazel Palmer, which endorsed the selection of the Sedalia Army Air Field as the site upon which an Air Academy of the United States shall be established.

Carl Urban made a motion that the party cancel out precinct meetings and go back to ward meetings. He said there were not enough people attending as it is now, and that ward meetings would develop a better organization. After several pros and cons were presented by approximately ten people, Mr. Urban withdrew his motion.

Following all the nominations and business matters, each of the elected candidates was introduced and spoke briefly in behalf of their candidacy.

Third Son of FDR Getting Into Politics

Seeking to Succeed Sol Bloom As Congressman

By Joe Hall

NEW YORK, March 19—(AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., third son of the late president, is running into heavy political weather in his maiden effort to win public office.

The 35-year-old attorney, closest to his father in manner and looks of all the four Roosevelt sons, announced this week he would try for the Congressional seat left vacant by the death of Sol Bloom.

He immediately won strong expressions of support from union sources and from leaders of the Democratic and liberal parties in the city. The latter party agreed to nominate him for the post.

But many of the Tammany Hall leaders in the district, the 20th have balked. They are the politicans who will have the say as to who gets the Democratic nomination.

The district, on the west side of Manhattan from 26th to 116th streets, is heavily Democratic. Bloom represented it 26 years.

Situation Embarassing

The situation reportedly is so embarassing for Hugo E. Rogers, Manhattan borough president and Tammany Hall leader, that he has expressed the hope Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will not call a special election in the district. This would leave the seat vacant until the general election next November.

As Tammany Hall leader, Rogers is head of the New York County Democratic committee. Members of the committee in the 20th district will decide the party nominee.

Local party leaders in the district who oppose young Roosevelt stress two points. One is that he is not a resident of the district. The other is that he at first backed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Democratic nomination for president last year although he later said he would support any party nominee.

Expect Vishinsky To Lead Fight

By Francis W. Carpenter

LAKE SUCCESS, March 19—(AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky and his No. 1 helper, Andrei A. Gromyko, are expected here to lead a Soviet fight on the North Atlantic pact treaty in the United Nations assembly next month.

The Soviet Union has not yet informed the U. N. who will make up the delegation. It never does until the delegation is on its way.

But a high U. N. official said today it would be a fair guess that Vishinsky would come from Moscow for the session opening at Fushing Meadows April 5.

Vishinsky was the top Russian at the assembly in Paris last fall. Since then he has been made foreign minister, succeeding V. M. Molotov.

Springfield Man To Address Rotary

James K. Cook, of Springfield will be the speaker at the Rotary meeting Monday noon. Mr. Cook is a member of the board of directors of the Missouri Society for Crippled Children and has been active in that work for more than 15 years. He was chairman of the committee responsible for establishing a school for chippled children in the Springfield school system. He was born and reared in Scotland and will sing some of his Scottish songs.

Grievances to Mo-Pac After Wabash Case

ST. LOUIS, March 19—(AP)—Leaders of the railroad brotherhoods will present a list of grievances against the Missouri Pacific railroad but not until "we get through with the Wabash."

W. C. Lash, vice president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, said a strike was authorized by Missouri Pacific operating employes last Dec. 15.

Meanwhile, the Wabash laid off more non-operating employes as the walkout of some 3,000 brotherhood men went through the fifth day.

A hearing intended to settle the dispute will be held here Monday morning by the three members of the fact-finding board appointed by President Truman.

Lash, John E. Donnelly, assistant Grand Chief Engineer, J. H. Rodgers, vice president of the Order of Railway Conductors and W. F. Donoghue, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, will represent their unions at the hearing.

Entirely Up To Government

Arthur K. Atkinson, president of the Wabash, said settlement of the strike was "entirely in the hands of the government," adding that he had received no direct invitation from any brotherhood spokesman to meet or negotiate before the hearing Monday.

Members of the fact-finding body are Chief Justice R. J. McDonough of the Utah Supreme Court, chairman; Curtis G. Shake, former justice of the Indiana Supreme Court, and John W. Yeager, associate Justice of the Nebraska Supreme Court.

The dispute is over individual claims against the railroad and is not over wages.

Elwood Embry Dies in Wreck Near Columbia

M-Sgt. From Wis. Also Killed; Collision On Friday Night

Elwood Embry, 21, 800 East Fifth street, and Master Sergeant A. D. Muck, 38, Spring Valley, Wis., were killed and six other persons injured, none seriously, about 11:45 o'clock Friday night, in a motor car collision six miles west of Columbia on U. S. Highway 40.

Most seriously hurt among the passengers was Mrs. Muck who suffered a fractured arm, a fractured ankle and a severe head cut. The couple's son, Robert, aged eight, suffered leg injuries and bruises.

Riding in the car with Embry were Lloyd Holman, 20, route 5, Sedalia, Clay Blaylock, 20, and his brother, Jack Blaylock, 18, of Beaman and Virgil R. Creech, 19, Troy, Mo.

All were taken to the Boone county hospital in Columbia. Lloyd Holman has a broken left arm and bruises over his right eye. Clay Blaylock complained of an injury to his right ribs, has scratches on his face, and an injury to his left knee. Both returned to Sedalia Saturday afternoon.

Remained in Hospital

Jack Blaylock, still a patient in the hospital, has a gash over his right eye, both wrists sprained, and a small gash on the back of his head. Creech, who remained in the hospital, has a cut on his chin and his front teeth were knocked out.

Embry was driving a 1942 Dodge coupe. With him were the Blaylock brothers and Holman and they picked up Creech, a sailor, near the edge of Sedalia, and were driving him to his home in Troy. Most of the occupants of the car were asleep when the collision occurred.

The Muck family was enroute to Kansas City to visit relatives, from Camp Breckenridge, Ga., where Sgt. Muck was stationed.

An inquest into the accident was held Saturday morning by Dr. Harry Griffith, of Columbia, Boone county coroner.

Born in Beaman, Mo.

Leonard Elwood Embry was born near Beaman, Mo., October 12, 1927.

He has lived all of his life in the Beaman and Sedalia communities with the exception of the time he was in the army.

He was graduated from the Olive Branch School and attended the Smithton High school.

He was inducted into the army at Ft. Leavenworth April 16, 1946. He served nineteen months in the army, thirteen months in Tokyo and was honorably discharged September 30, 1947.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Embry, 800 East Fifth street; one half-brother, Ray Embry, Denver, Colo., who will arrive in Sedalia today; one half-sister, Mrs. Truman Embree, Las Crusas, New Mexico; his grandfather, E. R. Wood, Sedalia.

Funeral services will be held at the East Sedalia Baptist church at 2:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Interment will be in the Salem Cemetery.

The body will be brought to Sedalia this morning and taken to the Ewing Funeral Home.

After a few minutes together, the Vowels found they wanted the shoes more than a divorce.

Groom, Wheel Chair, Bride Is on Crutches

Paralyzed Couple Married Beneath Archway of Flowers

By William C. Barnard

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 19—(AP)—Beneath an archway of pink and blue flowers, Warren Gilbert Coffer and Miss Virginia Maserang exchanged marriage vows here tonight.

He was in a wheel chair and she was on crutches. Both are paralyzed.

Coffer, 26, has been paralyzed from the waist down since Nazi shrapnel nicked him in the spine Nov. 16, 1944. Miss Maserang, hazel-eyed and 23, was crippled by polio when she was 10 years old.

For Coffer, who lay in a German field, without food or water three days and three nights until members of the Quartermaster Corps "came out to pick up the bodies," the road back has been long and tough.

Detroit, Mich., was his hometown. He had been a 170-pound ice skater and public speaker at the University of Michigan. After he was wounder, utter discouragement was his foe for weeks—then his religion came to his rescue. At Lisbon, Tex., veterans hospital in 1946, Dr. Irving Cramer called him "an amazing case." "The spirit of the man is enough to make you humble," the doctor added.

Became An Evangelist

At Hines veterans hospital in Chicago, Coffer had a talk with Dr. J. Frank Norris, preacher and head of the Bible Baptist Seminary, Fort Worth. Coffer enrolled in the Seminary, to become an evangelist. He still has a year to go but already he has preached sermons. Dr. Norris performed the ceremony tonight.

Miss Maserang, of Midlothian, Tex., met Coffer in a Dallas Baptist church in 1946. She was an artist with a photographic firm.

Of Coffer, she said today: "He's wonderful. I'm so excited I can hardly stand it."

And the 120-pound, brown-eyed Coffer, said of her: "She's really swell—I think she has proved that by the way she gets along."

"I'm pretty nervous about getting married," he added.

Double Ring Ceremony

The double-ring ceremony was held at the home of Mrs. Gorman Fuller, Miss Maserang's aunt.

After the ceremony the couple left in the specially equipped automobile which Coffer drives for a wedding trip to New Orleans, Florida and Detroit. They will spend the summer in Detroit.

"I'm very thankful," said Coffer. "I want my life to be as normal as possible. I try to be guided by a little prayer."

This is the prayer: "God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can, and wisdom to know the difference."

Snow in Mo., Rain in Calif.

CHICAGO, March 19—(AP)—Light snow fell today in a band from east central Missouri to eastern South Dakota.

There was rain in central California and along the Pacific coast in Washington and Oregon.

Most of the rest of the nation had fair weather.

Rather cold weather continued from the northern plains eastward to the middle Atlantic states and New England. Elsewhere, temperatures were near normal, with very mild weather in the central Rockies where Denver enjoyed a balmy 68.

Oklahoma City and Los Angeles reported afternoon 65s and Miami 68. In the chill area, Fargo, N. D., and New York reported 28 and Cleveland 30.

Penal Officer Club Speaker

Alton B. Gowen, director of education at the Missouri State Penitentiary, will be in Sedalia Tuesday to address the luncheon meeting of the Optimist club at the Bothwell hotel.

Program chairman, G. P. Darnell, describes the speaker's address as the fourth in a series of talks, set up to give club members an overall view of the workings of Missouri's correctional institutions.

Gowen is a graduate of Northeastern Engineering college and the University of the State of New York. He was vocational instructor with the New York Board of Education; instructor for the Federal Bureau of Prisons and, during the war, organized training programs for both the Navy and Air Forces.

Strategic Plan The First Step

To be Undertaken By North Alliance Powers for Defense Against Russia

By John M. Hightower

WASHINGTON, March 19—(AP)—The Atlantic Alliance powers intend to set up a "common strategic plan" against Russia.

This would be a major task of a defense committee which is to be formed by the high policy Atlantic council provided in the security treaty.

A state department booklet issued tonight explaining the proposed pact said:

"The last two great wars have proved that a major conflict in Europe would inevitably involve the United States.

"The North Atlantic pact x x x is designed to give assurance that in the case of such a war there will be a coordinated defense in which the actual military strength and the military potential of all the members will be integrated into a common strategic plan."

Offender Not Named

The booklet itself did not say against whom these defenses would be organized. Officials consider Russia the only power outside the alliance capable of waging a "major conflict."

The strategic plan, it is understood, is supposed to provide for building up the forces of the west to a point at which they would be reasonable to turn back aggression.

Also it would decide beforehand the places, times and manner in which those forces would be brought into play.

It would be a great military defense scheme stretching from the tip of Italy across the heart of Europe to the tip of Norway.

Should Help Peace Prospects

The booklet argued that the pact should increase peace prospects by preventing "any potential aggressor" from miscalculating the unity and power of the west. Such a mistake on Russia's part has been a longtime fear of officials here.

The booklet put another new point on the record: Germany and Spain can't get into the alliance anytime soon. Most members don't want Spain now, it said.

It came forth on the heels of the text of the treaty itself which soon will go to the senate for ratification.

Meanwhile, it was learned that meetings are planned here around April 1 for the foreign ministers of the eight to 12 countries which will sign the treaty April 4. The pre-signing talks would concern specific plans for putting the alliance into force as quickly and effectively as possible.

Eight Sure to Sign

Eight countries are sure to sign the pact. Four others are expected to accept invitations.

Foreign ministers who will come her around April 1 include Bevin of Britain and Schuman of France.

The presence of those two in Washington along with Secretary of State Acheson almost certainly means that German problems will likewise be discussed.

Officials have said for many weeks that such subjects as German reparations and constitutional issues involved in forming a west German state require high level government review by the western occupation powers.

Truman Hands Out Awards

WASHINGTON, March 19—(AP)—President Truman, fresh from his Florida vacation, was guest of honor tonight at the annual dinner of the White House news photographers association.

He presented awards for the best pictures of the year by association members and opened the group's exhibition. Byron H. Rollins, of Associated Press photos, presided at the dinner as retiring president of the association.

Members of the cabinet, the Supreme Court and other official circles attended.

Mine Shutdown Now a Week Old

PITTSBURGH, March 19.—(AP)—The coal mine shutdown was a week old today and there was widespread speculation whether or not it would end as scheduled.

Mighty John L. Lewis, the United Mine Workers' leader, called for a two-week "memorial" and protest work stoppage. It should end a week from Monday.

Whether the miners troop back to the pits may depend on the senate action in confirming Dr. James Boyd as U. S. Bureau of Mines director.

Lewis called the strike in all mines east of the Mississippi partly in protest against Boyd's appointment. The house approved his appointment last week.

Meanwhile, layoffs in coal-using railroads mounted to 70,000.

The first steel production curtailment is scheduled tomorrow by the Sharon Steel Corp. because of a shortage of coke.

The Pennsylvania railroad reported 400 of the 12,000 workers furloughed at its Altoona shops are being called back for repair work on 21 diesel locomotives.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON, March 19—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) called the proposed North Atlantic Pact "a powerful insurance policy against World War III" today but three top colleagues raised serious questions about it.

Senator Taft of Ohio, who heads the GOP policy committee, told reporters that the way the agreement is drawn makes it appear "inseparable" from the issue of supplying arms to Europe.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, told a reporter that before he consents to vote on the proposed treaty he wants the State Department to "lay down for inspection any separate legislation that goes along with it."

Senator Bridges of New Hampshire, ranking Republican on the Appropriations committee, asserted in a statement that if the Senate ratifies it, "the North Atlantic Pact does mean automatic war for the United States if a signatory power is attacked."

LONDON, March 19—(AP)—A Soviet commentator charged tonight that "Anglo-American war-makers" will use the North Atlantic treaty to gain military bases for carrying out "their plans to dominate the world."

Another Moscow broadcaster charged: "This pact means war on the Soviet Union."

Russian commentator M. D. Melnikov declared in an English-language broadcast cast heard in London that the treaty has a "purely military aggressive aim."

WASHINGTON, March 19—(AP)—Plans were disclosed tonight for the formation of a "big, national, non-partisan committee" of citizens to press for adoption of the Hoover commission's proposed reorganization of the federal government.

Government officials said that Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple university, Philadelphia, has accepted the chairmanship of the voluntary group.

Truman Back in Washington

WASHINGTON, March 18.—(AP)—President Truman returned today from his 13-day Florida vacation a little heavier but feeling "fine."

He told reporters at the airport that he would send the North Atlantic Security Treaty to the senate for ratification "as soon as it is ready."

This was taken to mean the senate would get the pact soon after it is signed here April 4. The President had already approved the text made public yesterday as well as the explanation of it last night by Secretary of State Acheson.

Asked whether a trip to Israel by Eddie Jacobson, his former partner in the haberdashery business in Kansas City, had any official connection, Mr. Truman said it had not; that Jacobson was on his own.

He said he did not know anything about the trip until reporters told him about it yesterday at Key West, Fla. Jacobson sailed Thursday and it was reported he would give his impressions to the President on his return.

The President did not go at once to his White House office. He drove directly to his Blair House residence to get ready to attend the White House news photographers association annual dinner tonight.

Climbed Fence to 'Show Off' Polar Bear Pulled Him in

ST. LOUIS, March 19—(AP)—A polar bear dragged 13-year-old Donald Carey into the bear's pit today, clawing and biting the boy seriously.

The boy had climbed a fence at the St. Louis zoo and was sitting on the edge of a moat surrounding the pit.

The bear, Snowball, weighing 1,000 to 1,200 pounds, grabbed Donald's leg. Four other children who were with young Carey ran for help.

Guards rushed to the pit with rifles and called to Donald to stop struggling. When he did that the bear and his mate, Frisky, began to lick the boy.

The keepers brought automobiles to the pit and began honking horns and shouting. The noise frightened the bears back into their den and young Carey was rescued.

He was reported in serious condition at City hospital with cuts and bruises on his thighs, chest, body and arms.

Playmates told police Donald had climbed the fence to "show off" despite warning signs.

The Democratic convention was held in the City Council chamber Saturday night at which time the delegates filled the Democratic ticket for the various city offices at stake in the City election on Tuesday, April 5. The entire representation from each ward was present, 100 delegates.

Candidates for the unexpired terms, two city offices, were ratified. William "Bill" Miller of the Third ward delegation took the floor and placed the name of Earl Lashley before the convention for the short term for City Councilman of that ward.

The short term office was due to the resignation of Dr. George W. Peak, who resigned last fall when he left the city.

Frank W. Hayes of the Fourth ward delegation then nominated James E. Durley as the Democratic candidate for city attorney. His name was likewise ratified without opposition.

The vacancy in the office of city attorney resulted from the election of William F. Brown to the office of prosecuting attorney. It was necessary for him to resign the first of the year when he took the new office to which he was elected.

School Board Nominee

Palmer R. Nichols was placed before the convention as the Democratic member of the Sedalia Board of Education. Nichols was nominated by G. O. "Dutch" Hawley, and he was likewise ratified without opposition. If elected he will succeed himself.

In the First ward, S. J. Timborious placed the name of Pete R. Menefee before the convention, for City Councilman.

The meeting was presided over by D. Kelly Scruton, City Chairman. Miss Alice Scott was secretary of the meeting.

Committeemen and women, it was announced, are to report their selection of judges to Miss Scott today, so the City Council can pass on the selections at the regular meeting of the council Monday night.

Bomber Launched In New Fashion

WASHINGTON, March 19—(AP)—A long-range bomber of a type which the Navy says can handle atom bombs took off from a carrier early this month, it was learned today. The plane was the heaviest ever launched in that fashion.

Navy officials, in answer to questions, said the Lockheed Neptune P2V-3C—weighing with its bomb load and fuel approximately 37 tons — flew off the carrier Coral Sea March 7.

The bomber, after a 2,000-mile flight, dropped a load equivalent to 10,000 pounds of bombs, then landed at the Patuxent, Md., Naval Air Base.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, March 20 — Four months ago triumphant Harry Truman came back to Washington re-affirmed President of the United States without help from his late friend FDR, and with surprisingly large majorities in both house of Congress.

This week, in contrast, he has suffered three major defeats at the hands of this same pro-Truman Congress, and, what is far more important, by a Congress which has discovered that it's fun to thumb its nose at its alleged boss in the White House.

Furthermore, the Republican members of that Congress are quietly determined to make Mr. Truman eat his own words and prove to the country that Truman's own 81st Congress is worse than the GOP's much-publicized and much-maligned 80th Congress. And with support from the Dixiecrats they can do it.

Nothing could be worse for Mr. Truman's program, and while the politicians are not worried about Mr. Truman, it is also a fact that from the viewpoint of national unity at a critical time in world affairs, and from the viewpoint of economic stability, nothing could be worse for the country.

For when a nation's legislators thumb their noses at the nation's president, it does not give other nations confidence in signing pacts and treaties. Nor does it give them confidence that a pact, once signed, will later be ratified, or its provisions carried out.

Why Truman Melted

The mistakes of the past cannot be remedied. But to prevent mistakes in the future, it is important to look back and see why President Truman's supposed great political popularity melted away so rapidly. Here are some of the reasons:

Truman's cockiness — As an humble, simple man, Mr. Truman is an appealing, popular figure. But humility does not necessarily mean ability. Also when the President's humility changed to cockiness after November, he lost some of his popularity. This was particularly noticeable to friends who called to help and advise, but went away rebuffed and lectured to. Mr. Truman was confident that he did not need help. He was as highhanded with some senators as he was in censoring photos at Key West.

No Long-Range Strategy — At the opening of Congress no plans were made as to what legislation should come first. A military commander carefully maps out his campaign before his troops go into battle. A sales manager carefully coordinates his sales force and his advertising barrage. But on legislation vitally affecting the nation, the Truman administration nonchalantly galloped in, sabers brandished aloft, with not the foggiest idea of what bills should be passed first.

Instead of getting rent control, housing, aid to education and other vital parts of the Truman program out of the way first, the Trumanites gallantry bared their breasts and threw their weight against a bristling concrete wall of southern filibusterers.

No civil rights compromise — Inside fact is that many southern senators were quite willing to compromise on civil rights at the opening of Congress when they thought Truman was all-powerful. Now they won't compromise because they know he's not.

In January many southern senators figured that two of the civil rights bills would not cause serious resentment in the south—the anti-poll tax and anti-lynching bills. About half the southern states have already abolished the poll tax; while many have undertaken forthright measures against lynching. They were, however, emphatically opposed to FEPC.

But when Georgia's Senator Russell called on Truman to talk compromise, he got nowhere. Truman wouldn't even discuss the south's greatest fear — intermarriage.

No teamwork — FDR also had tough legislative battles. Some of his measures squeaked through with great difficulty. But Roosevelt had a team operating on Capitol Hill, buttonholing doubtful senators, turning thumbs down on postmasterships for congressmen who deserted the party.

Truman also had a team operating skillfully in the background when he was elected last autumn. But that team was nowhere to be found when it came to the all-important job of winning votes on Capitol Hill. When George Killion, former treasurer of the Democratic national committee, buttonholed Senator Kerr of Oklahoma, Kerr said this was the first time any administration leader had bothered to talk to him about the filibuster.

Patronage — When Dixiecrats came back to Congress after their defeat last fall, they soon discovered Mr. Truman had no fixed policy toward them. He was petty when it came to such little things as snubbing governors Strom Thurmond and Herman Talmadge in the inaugural parade. But on things that really counted, such as patronage and postmasterships, they found they could get what they wanted. The administration had no fixed policy. It floundered. So, fear in the hearts of the Dixiecrats evaporated. They knew they could continue to oppose Truman with impunity.

Senate leadership — Acting as Senate majority leader is never easy — especially for a new man. Alben Barkley had grown gray at the game, had come to be a great leader. Now he is elevated to the rostrum, where leadership is more difficult. Replacing him has been sad-eyed, harassed Senator Scott Lucas of Illnois, who looks as if the world rested heavily upon his shoulders. Of late it has. Whether through inexperience or because he had too much long-distance direction from Key West, Lucas was first too meek during the filibuster battle, then too tough, then almost too glad to surrender.

Florida sunshine — Before Truman left on his Key West holiday close friends urged him not to take time off at such a crucial moment. He wouldn't listen. They even urged that, instead, he take a trip through the country, not for the purpose of scolding Congress, but to sample the temper of the people and get back some of his humility. He ignored the advice, scolded Congress instead.

Taft vs. Vandenberg — To those who watched the Senate vote on cloture to end filibusters, Senator Taft's prestige went way up while Senator Vandenberg's went down. Their difference was over the Barkley reversal of Vandenberg's ruling last summer that there was a difference between a motion and a measure. Vandenberg, wanting to embarrass Truman and encourage a southern filibuster, had ruled last summer there was such a difference.

Barkley ruled there wasn't and many fair-minded Republicans, including Taft, supported him. However, Vandenberg sonorously, pontificated before the Senate in a speech that sounded like an argument as to how many angels can stand on the point of a needle. It was Vandenberg the politician, not Vandenberg the statesman, who talked. For in his heart he knew that the essence of democracy is majority rule after reasonable debate, not veto by a minority.

In 1820, the United States had a population of 10 million persons.

White House News Photographers Contest Award

President Harry S. Truman presents the George W. Harris Trophy to Frank Cancellare as grand prize in the WHNPA competition.

"'Taint the Way I Heerd It" won the grand prize and the first prize in the Spot News class for Cancellare. It was taken Nov. 4 when the President's victory special stopped in St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, March 20—(NEA)—Frank Cancellare set a new mark in photographic achievement by winning five major prizes in the sixth annual White House News Photographers Association contest — more than any one entrant has ever received.

The NEA-Acme photographer, whose pictures appear regularly in The Democrat-Capital, received the Grand Prize of the show, three first prizes and one third prize. This recognition of Cancellare's work marked another milestone in his award-studded career as a news photographer whose assignments have ranged from the war in China to presidential campaign coverage.

President Harry S. Truman, who was the subject of three of these award-winning pictures, presented the Grand Prize cup and four plaques to the NEA-Acme photographer at theWHNPA banquet here, attended by government, newspaper and film notables. Cancellare is the third Acme photographer to win the George Harris trophy in the six years that it has been offered.

The newspicture that won the grand prize came as a climax to Cancellare's 10,000 miles of lens work aboard the presidential campaign special last fall. Titled "Taint the Way I Heard It," it was taken the day after the election and showed President Truman gaily holding aloft a Chicago Tribune with the headline "Dewey Defeats Truman."

This picture was one of those unexpected shots that news photographers must make with split-second accuracy or miss forever. Someone handed Truman a copy of the Tribune as he stood on the rear platform of his Washington-bound train during a brief stop in St. Louis.

Cancellare swung his camera up at the instant the President broke into a broad grin and waved the paper to the crowd. Inside a half hour, this historic picture was being transmitted by Acme Telephoto to newspapers throughout the country from the NEA-Acme bureau in St. Louis. Later judged one of the year's outstanding newspictures, it also won first prize in the WHNPA Spot News Class.

"Shutter Bug," the Cancellare picture that won first prize in the Presidential Class, was an excellent candid shot of Truman about to go into action with a new movie camera. Members of the "One More Club," composed of White House news photographers, presented the camera to the President, and he promptly turned it on them.

"Champs" won third prize in Presidential Class.

Third prize in this class went to Cancellare's "Champs" — another post-election picture showing Truman and Vice President Alben Barkley arriving in Washington Nov. 5 with hands held aloft in the victors' pose.

"Love in Bloom," a sparkling study of the capital's famed cherry tree row, won Cancellare the first prize in the Scenic Class. When spring came early to Washington last year, the NEA-Acme lensman took his camera to the picturesque tidal basin and photographed a soldier and his girl beneath the blossoms.

All of these award-winning pictures resulted from regular assignment work and they previously appeared in newspapers throughout the country in connection with the news or feature events they illustrated.

Brooklyn-born Cancellare started his camera career as a 'squeegee boy' (print dryer) in Acme's New York office when he was 16. He graduated to lens work in 1937 and by the time war came he had a sound and varied background of photographic experience.

Assigned to the tough CBI theater, Cancellare distinguished himself with three years of outstanding coverage under difficult conditions. He pictured the tragedy of famine in India in 1943, sweated out the building of the Stilwell Road and flew "The Hump" many times in 1944, and turned his lens on combat scenes in the hot jungles of Burma and on the broad plains of China in 1945.

The NEA-Acme photographer went along on the first B-29 raid on the Japanese homeland, made the first picture of hand-hewed airfields in China, and produced a dramatic series of photos of terror-stricken Chinese civilians who were fleeing before the Jap armies.

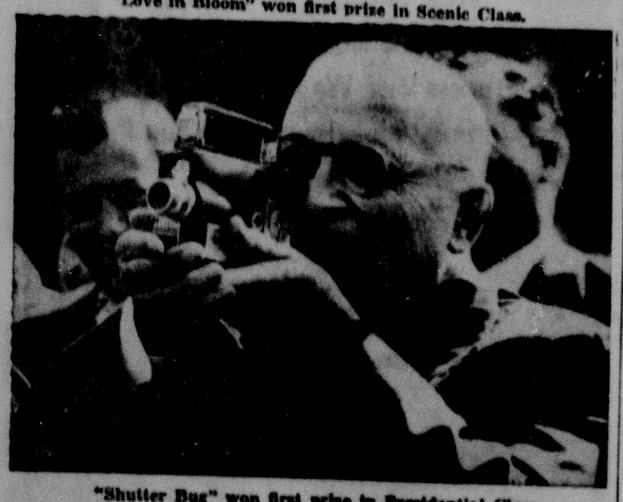

Since the war, Cancellare has covered major events in Washington and elsewhere for The Democrat-Capital and other NEA Acme client newspapers throughout the United States. He made spectacular pictures of the Texas City disaster, photographed all of last year's political conventions and is one of several NEA-Acme photographers assigned to the presidential beat.

Recently Cancellare was bundled into a plane and flown to Fort Worth on an assignment cloaked with secrecy. It turned out to be the arrival of "Lucky Lady II," the B-29 that flew non-stop around the world.

Winning awards is no novelty to the 37-year-old photographer. He has several WHNPA prizes from previous years, placed first in the newspicture section of the 1947 University of Missouri competition and had two of his photos featured in the Britannica-Missouri book, "The Great Pictures, 1948." Among Cancellare's most famous pictures are his airviews of Texas City, his photo of General Wainwright's reunion with his wife in 1945, and his shot of John L. Lewis sitting alone amid sunlight and shadows in a Washington hotel lobby.

"Love in Bloom" won first prize in Scenic Class.

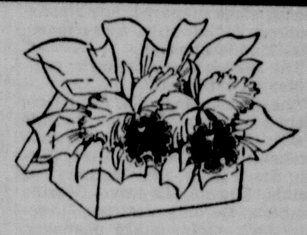

"Shutter Bug" won first prize in Presidential Class.

Its Only Master is the Person at Its Wheel!

From the standpoint of agility, smoothness and quickness of acceleration—the 1949 Cadillac is a never-ending challenge to the imagination. Yet, in the hands of the person at its wheel, it is as docile as a kitten!

Never before has a car so dynamic been under such certain and easy control. The big, powerful hydraulic brakes are completely dominant—yet they are as soft to the pedal as sponge rubber. A touch from the daintiest foot—and the car settles down to a quick and easy stop. A touch on the accelerator, and it moves quickly into any position its driver wishes to occupy. The big, slender steering wheel is feather-light in the hand—and quick and positive in its action.

Yes, the driver is boss in a Cadillac!

It's a great thrill to take command of such a car—as hundreds are learning every day. Why not come in and see for yourself? Regardless of the price class from which you expect your next car to come, you ought to be familiar with Cadillac.

Actress Gains Or Loses Weight Just by Worrying About It

By Howard C. Heyn

HOLLYWOOD, March 19.—(AP)—Actress Corinne Calvet says it's an old trick with French women: Losing weight just by thinking about it.

"Fashions change frequently in France," explained the little Parisienne. "The perfect figure at the beginning of the year may mean full bust and small hips. Six months later, perhaps, the mode is small bust and narrow hips. Or small bust and wide hips. One must be alert."

French women, she asserted, don't worry about politics. They worry about their men, about their love life. It follows that they worry about how they look, she said, on the "rope of sand" set.

Worrying Helps

"So, I can gain or lose just by worrying," she said. "I look in the mirror at night, and I say, 'Oh, this won't do!' I talk to myself. It is awful, I say. I worry very much. I lose weight. This thought goes into my subconscious mind while I sleep."

Mebbe. But Hollywood must be short on subconscious minds. There is plenty of evidence among portly males and plumpish females around here that worry alone gives an ulcer, but only.

Miss Calvet, married recently to Actor John Bromfield, insists that she can redistribute her weight in three weeks solely by the above method. "In one week I lost 3½ inches around the waist," she declared proudly.

Sounds Like Dr. Coue

This sounds like Dr. Coue of "every day in every way I am getting better and better" fame, but some people made that work, too. Corinne at least has inspired a lot of wishful thinking among the Andy Devines, Jack Oakies and Sydney Greenstreets of the business. To date they're still on the hefty side.

Women, chiefly, take issue with Miss Calvet's system. But she just says, "actually, they worry for on minute and give up for ten. Mental discipline takes time. Some minds have not been trained in that direction."

Corinne herself is her only material proof of the theory. And there are those who charge that she maintains her excellent figure by exercising secretly. Challenged directly on this, she emitted a "No!" which was a real Gallic explosion. "Exercise," she added bitingly, "bores me to death."

Well, she'll get plenty of agreement on that point.

Easter Seal Sale This Week

The 1949 Easter Seal sale, which starts in this county this week, will make it possible to carry forward service to crippled children which has been developed over a period of twenty-two years, Archer O'Reilly, Jr., president of the Missouri Society for Crippled Children and Adults, said in releasing the Society's twenty-second annual report.

An objective of $185,000 for the state-wide seal sale has been set.

Sixty-eight County Committees for Crippled Children reported individual services to 1146 crippled children and 275 adults during the past year: In the same period, county committees gave financial assistance to 742 children and 97 adults.

Among the direct services rendered by county societies is the purchase of equipment for schools, clinics and hospitals; providing for transportation for children going to hospitals or clinics; purchase of braces, wheel chairs, other appliances; sharing of costs of therapists in stations giving direct services to children.

"These county services are paid for by Easter Seal Funds," Mr. O'Reilly explained. "After expenses are paid sixty percent of money raised in the Easter Seal sale remains in the county in which it is raised and 40% supports the statewide services of the Missouri society, available to all counties."

Sky is Word For Shelter In Arab Refugee Camp

By CORRINNE HARDESTY
NEA Special Correspondent

GAZA, Palestine — (NEA) — Throughout Southern Palestine, there are 200,000 homeless Arabs existing on United Nations supplies. Most of them, filling out census cards distributed by UN relief workers, place next to the line "shelter" the one word — "sky."

These are the refugees who live on the wind-swept dunes. Others more fortunate, jam every abandoned or vacant building. Some have dug caves in the hillsides. Hundreds cluster in the mosque courtyards. Three families live in Samson's tomb.

To feed and care for these people, the 32 members of the American Friends Service Committee unit working in the Gaza area, and the section 25 miles south and west along the Mediterranean shore to Rafah, have distributed 5,500,000 pounds of food, 103,000 blankets, and 1260 tents. These supplies have been contributed by the United Nations since the UN Relief for Palestine Refugees was undertaken early in January.

The program provides a daily ration of 2000 calories—made up of flour, mlik, margarine, oil, dates, beans, some canned meat and other items.

The western idea of standing in line is frowned on by the Arabs, who prefer to push and crowd, beg and plead as the supplies are distributed almost daily. They button-hole the members of the unit, asking in shrill voices for special rations or complaining that a neighbor got too much, even though only one of the 32 speaks fluent Arabic.

The refugees streamed into the area last spring, fleeing the war by cart, by donkey, by camel, by foot. They brought with them their most valuable possessions, which seem out of place in their present surroundings. Decorative lamps, ornate cradles, gilt-framed famil photographs and the like are placed in the spot of honor in humble tents.

There is Hassim, for instance, a bright-eyed 14-year-old. His father, a farm laborer in Yibna, died just before the family fled south. His mother died shortly after their arrival at a camp. Hassim has nine brothers and sisters. They share a tent with another family. He wears a jacket and a pair of cotton trousers — both masterpieces of patches on patches.

There is Halemah Sadam, for another, a pretty young mother, casually nursing little Musa Yusef as she trudges to the camp bakery, a pan of bread gracefully balanced on her head. Her husband was a farmer at Iqir, where the family lived in comparative comfort. Now they share a semi-wrecked building with 25 other family units. Between each family, to give an air of privacy, ragged sheets of burlap are hung.

The people, although homeless, usually hungry and often sick, still are hospitable. The members of the unit are continually invited in to the shacks and tents, and cordially asked to share the family's precious store of tea or coffee. Sometimes, the Arabs even invite the team members to lunch.

But their plight is best summed up in the words of Hassim, trudging bare-footed through the camp. "This life," he says wearily, "is no life."

At Breig camp, near Gaza, Palestine, one water tap serves the entire Arab refugee population. Jugs, canteens and other receptacles are used to carry water, as the homeless crowd around.

Last GAR Commander Hopes To Lead Indianapolis Parade

LA JOLLA, Cal., March 19.—(AP)—The last commander of the Grand Army of the Republic hopes to lead its final parade.

Theodore A. Penland, who was 100 years old Jan. 23, wasn't able to attend President Truman's inauguration, but he is making plans now to travel to Indianapolis in September to wind up the business of the once mighty G. A. R.

The 1948 reunion at Grand Rapids, Mich., which elected Penland commander, voted to hold one more reunion. It selected Indianapolis—where the first reunion was held 82 years ago.

"But there will be a marked difference," said Penland. "When I attended the first reunion, our comrades came in thousands by long special trains."

Attendance Uncertain

Penland said he did not know how many of the 21 members living would be at Indianapolis.

Only six were at Grand Rapids.

"But if only the national secretary, Miss Cora Gillis of Washington, D. C., and myself are present, we will march in a great parade."

Penland said other veterans organizations are working with him to make the parade worthy of the occasion.

The last G.A.R. commander, a native of Goshen, Ind., joined the Union army when he was only 16.

Crossroads Comment

by G.H.S.

So far there's not much to tell about the ten lives of the stray tom cat that has taken up his abode in the Elks basement.

Lou Hiesterberg philosophises that cats are not the only "ten life" animals after an experience he had on Highway 65 north. He was driving behind a truck covered with a flapping tarpaulin. Momentarily he let his eyes shift to his car radio for an adjustment and when he looked out the windshield again he blinked in astonishment. For there in the air above the truck was a hog rolling around in the atmosphere. He didn't believe his eyes until he saw gravity start to work on the flying hog which hit the pavement in front of him and rolled over and over on the concrete into the ditch, although it could have landed on Lou's car or in front of it and caused an accident.

Lou overtook the truck and notified the driver he had lost a hog. By the time Lou turned around, so had the truck, and the driver was chasing the hog which he finally caught and loaded again. The animal apparently had not been hurt by the impact on concrete.

There ought to be some kind of a moral here but I can't make it out. Anyway someone is going to be eating "bruised bacon" soon.

—O—

Oh, for the "good old days" when knighthood was in flower. How compelling the desire to live in the glamourous past depicted in historical novels written in the 20th Century.

Actually if we were required to make a choice between living in the era of Queen Bess or Louis XIV we definitely settle for modern plumbing and table tools.

It is doubtful if 16th century royalty would be too well received socially in Sedalia these days. For one reason royalty and the upper classes wouldn't have had a bath since Indian summer because they seldom practiced bathing during the winter months. Then, too, they were pretty sloppy with table manners, either lacking or disregarding the use of knives, forks and spoons. Finger-dipping, finger-sucking, was much easier.

And when it came to spitting, the bare floor or rug were targets. We moderns, however, can still improve on our spitting technique.

So a tribute to knives, forks, spoons, soap and showers, and spittoons.

Orchid Fresh For Three Years

A reminder of her happiness on her fiftieth wedding anniversary is a purple orchid still fresh after almost three years, which Mrs. Ida Alexander was given by her husband, A. A. Alexander, on the occasion.

Mrs. Alexander wore the orchid all day June 24, 1946, the anniversary. She then placed the orchid in a corsage box and placed it in the refrigerator at the Alexander home at 3423 Bellefontaine avenue, Kansas City.

Aside from a few brown spots about the edges, Mrs. Alexander finds the orchid still in good condition with her fifty-third anniversary only several months away. She has worn the flower, however, only the one time.

Mrs. Alexander was formerly Miss Ida Ferguson, of Houstonia, and the marriage over a half century ago to Mr. Alexander, also of that place was

Tired, "All-In"—Listless Feeling Brought To Halt

As Vibrant Energy is Released To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Do you get up in the mornings still tired, feel down-and-out all day? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Overwork, undue worry, cold, flu or other illness often wears down the red-blood-cells.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, & run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that 888 Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the 888 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 888 Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on 888 Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. 888 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Allergies Are No Joke, Sometimes Due To Emotions

By Alton L. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK, March 19—(AP)—Are you allergic to work? Or your wife or husband?

That's not just a joke, says Dr. Harry Swartz, allergist of New York City. People use the word "allergic" that way in fun, but it does have a scientific basis.

You can get asthma, skin troubles, or other effects from things you touch or breathe on your job. A husband can get an allergic reaction from the feathers in his wife's hat. A wife may be allergic to her husband's shaving lotion.

One in every 10 Americans suffers from a major form of allergy. Half of us may sometime have a mild allergy. The rest of us could get one under the right conditions, Dr. Swartz writes in a new book, "Allergy. What it is. What to do about it." (Rutgers University Press). Allergies cause so much misery, and even deaths, that they should be tackled as a public health problem, he says.

Allergies can work in strange ways. Emotions may cause the reactions.

Can't Eat Watermellon

Dr. Swartz tells of one woman who gets sick when she eats watermelon. Now even just the sight of watermelon nauseates her.

A woman who suffers from rose fever had an allergic attack when she smelled an artificial rose, which she thought was a real one.

Hayfever victims may get worse if they're told the pollen count is high that day, when actually it is low.

One businessman was a tough case. Each April his attacks of asthma became worse, and stayed bad until October. He would lose weight, and be in bed for weeks. He was sensitive to pollens, but only mildly.

The real trouble was deep anxiety. He manufactured clothes, and had to decide in March on his seasonal "line." Not until September did he know if he had guessed right, making money or losing a fortune. He had never guessed wrong, but feared he might. His severe asthma disappeared when he changed to a business that brought a steady income each month.

Emotion Plays A Role

Emotional upsets bring on allergic attacks if the pathways of reaction have already been set up, Dr. Swartz says. Basically, the reactions are due to realease of a substance, histamine, from body cells. But "the emotional factor almost always plays a role in the systems of allergy."

A few people get hives or other allergies from exposure to cold, heat or sunlight. Others get hives if their skin is rubbed or tapped.

Dr. Swartz tells of a four-year-old boy whose skin was so sensitive you could write on it. If a word was traced gently with the fingernail on his skin, it would appear in large, reddened swolen lines a few moments later.

Most allergies are due to maternal agents. Pollens, foods, bacteria, cotton, animal hair, printer's ink, oils or perfumes in soaps or cosmetics, fish glue in wooden frames of furniture and hundreds of other things can cause allergies in some people.

Some Aids

Avoiding the offending stuff helps. So do some drugs, sometimes. Protection sometimes can be built up by injections of extracts of the offending substances. Psychotherapy or occasionally surgery may aid. But there's no real cure, Dr. Swartz said.

For control and prevention, he suggests four starting steps:

1. Organized, planned research, instead of haphazard and often duplicating studies.
2. Mass education for early recognition of signs of allergy. Untreated, the allergic response can get worse, becoming like a hairtrigger on a gun.
3. Eradication of common offenders. This would mean compulsory weed control in hayfever seasons, and getting rid of dyes or other materials in industry that cause many allergic symptoms.
4. Periodic examination, including tests of industrial workers and of school children to find those in the early stages of trouble or susceptibility.

Welcome, Sweet Springtime, Greet Thee With---Oops!!

Someone told Artist John Sunley (the poor man's Salvador Dali) that Spring, 1949, arrives officially at 5:49 p. m., EST, March 20. That night, when he went to bed, he dreamed a dream of spring and all it means. In a state of somnambulistic spring fever, he started sleep-walking. He walked over to his easel, picked up his brushes and—still fast asleep—started to paint. When he awoke next morning the fantasy above was leering at him from his easel. Soon after, Artist Sunley was taken away by the man in the little white coat.

Huge Advance Sales Startle Broadway Box Offices

By George Tucker
AP Newsfeature Writer

NEW YORK, March 19—(AP)—The huge amounts of money being poured into Broadway box offices this season before some shows even open has the Rialto gulping.

The spectacle of a show coming to town with enough money in the till to insure two months operation before the critics have graded it hasn't been seen, except on rare occasions, since the hog wild days of the late 20s.

But it happened in quick succession with "Red Gloves," "Kiss Me Kate," and "Death of a Salesman." It is happening now with "South Pacific."

"If a show has a name pull, if it has a great out of town opening, there is a kind of grapevine—a word of mouth—that starts rolling, and it's greater than any publicity campaign ever dreamed of," says George Ross, representing "Kiss Me Kate."

Worth A Million

"This, plus Cole Porter's name, was worth a million to us. We began accepting mail orders three weeks in advance of opening, and when the opening came we had $350,000 in the bank. Since then, we have averaged 4,200 letters a week. The average letter asks for four tickets. We have a $6 top. Figure it out for yourself."

"Death of A Salesman" opened Feb. 10 and had sold more than a quarter of a million dollars in tickets before reaching town, said James Proctor, the show's press representative.

The advantages of large advance sales became evident early in the season with the opening of "Red Gloves." The show had Charles Boyer from Hollywood, a great romantic star, and the advance guaranteed ten weeks' operations before the critics even had a look at it. Pre-opening sales came to $250,000.

Orders Rolled In

"South Pacific," a new musical based on James A. Michener's "Tales of the South Pacific," seems likely to beat even the money-gathering exploits of "Kiss Me Kate."

Three weeks ago the producers filled the newspapers with giant ads, opened the box office and sat down to wait.

As the money orders rolled in they sent out for a mechanical letter opener and hired two shifts of girls, eight to work daytimes and four at night.

Mail Orders Increase

Jack Pearl, who tabulates each day's orders, says they are arriving at the rate of $17,000 to $19,000 a day. More than $200,000 is already in the bank. The show doesn't open until April 7.

"Mail orders are on the increase because people are tired of standing in line," he says.

"South Pacific" is being produced by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein 2nd, in association with Leland Hayward and Joshua Lunt. It stars Mary Martin ("My Heart Belongs To Daddy") and Ezio Pinza of the Metropolitan Opera Co.

General Store at Pomona Burns

POMONA, Mo., March 19—(AP)—The Richards Brothers general store was destroyed by fire Friday at a loss estimated by the owners at $45,000.

The entire stock of general merchandise and all the fixtures were destroyed, leaving only the walls standing. The building had been rebuilt after a fire four years ago.

Owners Claude Richards of West Plains and his brother Newell Richards of Pomona, said the cause of the fire had not been determined.

The brothers own stores at West Plains, Ava, Mountain Grove, Mountain View, Mansfield, and Houston.

Building Laborers To Short 'Vacation'

ST. LOUIS, March 19—(AP)—A union representing about 7,000 building laborers in St. Louis gave notice Friday that the men will start a "vacation" next Tuesday. It would stop nearly all commercial building projects now in progress. There was no explanation. Home building would not be affected.

In a terse telephone call Owen L. Femmer, business representative of the AFL building laborers and hod carriers union, told the Master Builders Association what to expect. He gave no indication as to how long the stoppage is to last.

This, according to the official Soviet picture agency, is "Mozhaisky's plane, on the runway made of boards, before the takeoff for the world's first flight in a heavier-than-air machine." Insurance to Mother-in-Law

LOS ANGELES, March 19—(AP) Holding that Mrs. Virginia Irene McElhiney had poisoned her husband, U. S. Judge Ben Harrison Friday overruled her claim for his $10,000 GI insurance policy and awarded it to her mother-in-law, Mrs. Eva McElhiney of Moberly, Mo.

Mrs. McElhiney denied that she had done anything that would have caused the death of her husband, Everett Sidney McElhiney, a veteran of the Africa and Italian campaigns.

After her arrest, testimony in her trial disclosed, she admitted administering her husband arsenic so she could nurse him back to health. She claimed she feared she was losing his love. Mrs. McElhiney later repudiated this confession.

THELMA LOOMIS turned her spotlight up on the timber archway and read the twig letters carefully. Then she clicked off the spot and urged the car forward up the curved driveway. The Bar C Ranch house was dark, a somber bulk in silver moonlight. She braked the automobile in front of the door. On the parking lot were two cars—a convertible coupe and a gray sedan.

Miss Loomis moved quickly. From her big plain purse, she dug out a snub-nosed silver revolver. Expertly, she flipped the cylinder out and examined the shiny brass shells protruding from every socket. Satisfied, she eased out of the car and stuck the revolver in the wide belt of her policeman uniform.

Her flashlight beam probed over the other two cars, then swung back to the gloomy house. Thelma Loomis walked the length of the low porch slowly, her practiced feet making only the faintest noise on the tile. Above her hung dark stalactites of bridles and branding irons. Nothing stirred.

"Uh-huh," she murmured and clucked her tongue thoughtfully. Ignoring the brass knocker, she punched the button beside the door and stood listening to the distant loneliness of chimes. When the last tone had died, she tried the latch. The heavy door swung away from her on oiled hinges. Her flashlight cut a round hole into the blackness beyond. Lightly, she stepped after it and closed the door behind her.

• • •

THERE wasn't a soul in the house. Thelma Loomis was ready to stake her professional reputation on that.

But somewhere there had to be people. The evidence of the two cars pointed that way. Of course, Lieutenant Lay might have been wrong about Robottom.

She opened the back door and let herself out into a little patio, where galvanized-iron trash cans and an electric garbage disposer kept silent vigil. Outdoors was brighter than ever after the inky interior of the ranch house.

Miss Loomis went around the corner and headed for the higher boxlike building a hundred yards away. Suddenly, she stopped short, her hand fumbling for the snub-nosed revolver. Midway between the house and the other structure, something dark huddled on the ground, something that might have been a man. A darker blob crouched beside it.

"Good grief!" she ejaculated. The second shadow had moved. Thelma Loomis was staring at the outline of a huge cat, its ears erect, its eyes gleaming brightly at her. Her hand shaking, she tried to level the muzzle of her .32 at the giant animal.

"You nearly surprised me," the cat purred. "Not quite. Nearly."

Miss Loomis took a firm grip on herself to keep from breaking and running. She forced her legs to carry her forward, up to the cat.

"Nice kitty," she said unsteadily. The cat stood up on its hind legs and stretched.

MOONLIGHT poured over the face of Faye Jordan and the blonde woman began to understand the cat disguise. She had forgotten that she, too, was in costume. Her nerves unwound slightly and she chuckled softly.

"You're a policeman," Faye Jordan remarked.

"That's right." Thelma Loomis felt her smile slackening as she scanned the other, the unmoving shadow, with professional interest. "You certainly surprised me. Both of you."

"It's pretty fur, don't you think?" Faye said and preened the woolly material of her costume contentedly. "It zips down the back so I can get out. But I don't want to get out. I want to wear it all the time."

The other woman kneeled on the sandy ground and looked at the man huddled there.

The dark hawk face was relaxed and babyish. The man's head was lopsided with swelling under one half of the mussed silver hair. By Sagmon Robottom's ear rested a discarded stirrup iron.

Robottom's chest rose and sank regularly and an eyelid twitched.

"He didn't believe I was a cat." Faye crouched on the stable floor. Her mouth contracted viciously but the rest of her face was puzzled. "I think he said I mustn't use my claws. I don't like people who order me around."

"Would you like to go for a ride?" Thelma Loomis suggested soothingly. "Just the three of us. I know somebody you'd like to talk to, Faye. A man."

"Oh, that's a good idea." Faye bobbed her head excitedly. "I like to talk to men!"

MR. TRIM howled with laughter. His mouthful of irregular teeth was a wide circle and his shoulders shook. But the sound was thin, not carrying far enough to spawn an echo from the rock walls.

He stopped suddenly. "Shock can certainly produce a variety of comical expressions," Trim said with a final chuckle. "And yours rank with the finest in my collection. First, however—" his voice turned sharper "—gently toss that .45 back to me, Conover."

John Henry made his paralyzed hand reach for it.

"Gently. Not that I trusted you with a loaded gun—but, on the other hand, you might now be tempted to club me with it."

Carefully, John Henry lobbed the automatic to the other man. Trim snatched it deftly from the air and put it in his belt. Without shifting his gaze, he pounded his wooden pistol down sharply on the saddle horn. The painted toy shell shattered. He peeled the broken pieces from around a short black revolver and flung them to the canyon floor.

"No need for masquerade any longer, is there?" he commented.

Decorating Experts Pick Year's Best Home Furnishings Designs

NEW YORK — What do the experts rate as tops in new home furnishings?

For the answer, look at design winners of the American Institute of Decorators' annual international design competition. The five winning designs chosen from 450 entries plus 58 outstanding designs for fabrics, wallpaper, floor coverings, furniture and lamps, will be seen in a nationwide exhibition tour starting in April.

The seven-man jury which determined winners included noted interior decorators and architects, professors, a museum director and a leading retailer.

What did the blue-ribbon judges of design pick as the most outstanding piece of furniture?? A coffee table, five feet in diameter. Although contemporary, this design of Muller-Barringer of New York City, is adaptable to traditional interiors, is decorated with black lacquer and gold leaf has a top covering of tortoise shell paper. Because of its size and unusually heavy construction, the table may also be used as a bench—a point which received special jury comment. The sturdy circular openwork pedestal lacquered black supports the weighted top and prevents tipping should a guest take a seat.

The "simple, refined design" of a double gooseneck table lamp won a first award for designer George Farkas, Miami Beach. For this winner in the lamp and lighting category, two stems of flexible tubing which can be twisted into numerous positions for different lighting effects are mounted on a lacquered plastic base. The glass fiber shades are cone-shaped.

First award in the field of woven fabrics went to Los Angeles designer Harold Grieve for a skillfully blended weave of shining metalic thread and dull-surfaced cotton. Against a richly textured blue cotton background, a bold, repeating pattern of stylized airplanes has been worked in glittering silver. The fabric is for use in upholstery or draperies.

In the printed fabric class, "Strata," a sheer white rayon curtain cloth printed with a large-scaled abstract design won top honors for Detroit designer Ruth Adler. When cloth is draped, the pattern of narrow black pennants emphasizes the sheerness of the fabric and gives an illusion of greater fullness to the curtain.

Another abstract pattern, "Windmobiles," topped the wallpaper entries. The pattern, designed by San Francisco's Don Smith, looks to a non-professional eye like multi-colored paper cutouts pasted on a gray-green background.

Iserhardt, of Lakeland, Fla., which took place March 11 in the study of the First Baptist church in Washington, D. C.

Several friends were present for the ceremony.

Miss Marian Hester Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Jones and the late Mrs. Jones, of La Monte, and Mr. Kenneth Glazebrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Glazebrook, of Knob Noster, were married at the home of the bride, Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The bridal party stood in front of the attractively decorated fireplace and the single ring ceremony was read by the Rev. James D. Sill, of Warrensburg, in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride's choice for her wedding was a navy gaberdine suit with navy and white accessories Her corsage was an orchid.

Miss Marjorie Glazebrook, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant and wore a beige suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was yellow roses.

Mr. Glazebrook was attended by Mr. Eldon E. Jones, brother of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the dining table, which was covered with a handmade cloth, crocheted by the bride's mother, from which refreshments were served. The cake was flanked with tall white tapers.

The couple left immediately for a short wedding trip and will be at home in Lee's Summit, where the bridegroom is employed.

The pianist, Mrs. Thomas W. Croxton, played "Oh Promise Me" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life" while Miss Wilma Parks, sister of the bride, lighted the tapers. As the bride entered, she played the wedding march and continued playing softly throughout the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, W. L. Parks, wore a light blue suit with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Style Guide for today's woman

By Frances Sagaloff at Sage's

Now that it looks as though we will have a long spring season, full-length coats are growing more important. However, there is another reason for long coats being so important and that is that there are so many beautiful dresses being shown—dresses that are really wearable and we know that long coats are best for dresses. Skipper, toast, grey and red coats can be matched with shoes and bags and this, too, makes long coats exciting to buy. Long coats again have acquired styling that can be worn by most of us. The extreme fullness has been taken out—the long sweeping backs have been shortened and the fear of looking tho' we were wearing a robe is a thing of the past. If you have avoided trying on a new long coat this season—do yourself a favor and come in and try on one and you'll be proud of what the modified lines do for you.

Collegiate Ball Tourney June 22 to 25

Four NCAA Teams To Meet Following Regional Playoffs

CHICAGO, March 19—(AP)—The 1949 National Collegiate championship baseball tournament, consisting of a playoff between four regional champions, will be held at Wichita, Kas., June 22 through June 25.

The tournament will be held under the auspices of the University of Wichita, it was announced today by Frank C. McCormick, chairman of the baseball committee of the National Collegiate Association.

The championship will mark the third annual tournament sponsored by the NCAA to determine college baseball's best, but the organization of the 1949 championship will be considerably changed from the previous two years.

McCormick, University of Minnesota athletic director and one of college athletics' most experienced baseball men, said that during the previous two years the tournament had been patterned after the NCAA basketball championship. This called for selection of the best team in each of the eight NCAA districts, with the teams from the four eastern districts playing off. The two winners then met for the national title.

New Setup For 1949

Under the new setup for 1949, McCormick said, the outstanding teams in each of the eight NCAA districts again will be selected. However, instead of western and eastern playoffs, there will be four regional tournaments, with the following parings: District 1 (New England) vs. District 2 (Mid-Atlantic); District 3 (South and Southwest) vs. District 4 (Midwest); District 5 (Missouri Valley and Western Mid-West) vs. District 6 (Southwest); District 7 (Rocky Mountain) vs. District 8 (Pacific Coast).

The winners of the regional tournaments will meet at Wichita in a four game championship final. All playoffs will be on a basis of two games lost and elimination.

Coaltown Wins $20,000 Handicap

MIAMI, Fla., March 19—(AP)—Coaltown, Calumet Farm's great four-year old, today equalled the world's record for the mile and a quarter in winning Gulfstream Park's $20,000 handicap by seven lengths.

Under 128 pounds, Coaltown galloped under the wire in 1:59 4/5—the record time set nearly 10 years ago in Brighton, England, by Saint Andrews II at Golden Gate Fields on October 23, 1938.

Mrs. E. L. Hopkins' Three Rings was second and Coaltown's stablemate, Armed, was third, a half length behind Three Rings.

Coaltown, ridden by Ovie Scurlock,, returned $2.00 and $2.10 in the $2 mutuels. Three Rings paid $2.80 to place. There was no minus pool.

First Nighter was fourth, followed by Gangway, Big Dial, Marchons II, Dinner Hour, and Quemadito in that order.

Eldon Nelson was aboard Armed and Doug Dodson piloted Three Rings.

Today's crowd boosted the attendance for the first 14 days to 201,942, far ahead of the 159,516 for the same period two years ago.

Wagering on today's eight race program totaled $981,301.

Middlecoff Leads in Open Golf Tourney

Shoots 68 to Lead Nearest Competitors, Harrison, Mangrum

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 19—(AP)—Cary Middlecoff kuocked four strokes off par for a 68 and the halfway lead in the Jacksonville golf open at 134 today.

The 29-year old Memphis dentist was about 30 degrees hotter than the weather and three strokes ahead of his nearest competitors.

They were E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Albuquerque, N. M., who shared the opening day lead with Middlecoff at 66, and the top money winner of the year, Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago.

Harrison was only one under par with 71 today while Mangrum shot a 69 that gave them each 137 for the 36 holes.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., matched Middlecoff's 60 and was tied with Gheiner at 138.

Riegel Leads Amateurs

Skee Riegel of Tulsa still leads the amateur group. He added a 74 to his first round 67 for 141 at the halfway point.

Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa, got the feel of things on the second nine today and pulled into the running for prize money. He shot 37-34—71 for 144. Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., withdrew after his first-round 74.

The field was trimmed to 63 players for the third round tomorrow and the final 18 holes Monday. A score of 150 was good enough to stick in the field the rest of the way.

Braves and the Indians Favorites

ST. LOUIS, March 19—(AP)—On betting row the Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves are far and away favorites to retake the pennants in their respective leagues this year.

Betting Commissioner James J. Carroll posted the Indians at 6 to 5 odds and Boston at 7 to 5 today. This means that a $5 bet will bring in $6 if the Indians are ahead of the American League next October and $7 if the Braves win the National League flag.

Other clubs in the American League and their odds are: Boston 2-1, New York, 3-1, Philadelphia and Detroit 12-1, St. Louis 30-1, and Chicago and Washington 40 to 1.

In the National League with odds are the Brooklyn Dodgers at 2½ to 1, St. Louis 3-1, Pittsburgh, 5-1, New York and Chicago 15-1, Philadelphia 30-1, and Cincinnati 40-1.

U. S. Golfers Ordered To Speed Up Play

NEW YORK, March 19—(AP)—U. S. golfers got another order today to speed up their play.

The USGA, announcing several changes in the rules, explained that effective immediately a golfer delaying the game may be penalized two strokes in medal play or lose a hole in match play.

And if the player persists in the slow-down, he may be disqualified. Previously disqualification was the only penalty. It was so severe that it seldom was enforced.

Sport Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

WITH baseball cutting in for the big end of talk among sports fans the past few days, the subject of the Missouri Semi-Pro tournament has come about. There has not been a definite decision on this tournament to date, but there is a lot of talk on an Invitational Baseball tournament being held in the fall.

Regardless of the Semi-Pro tournament, I feel Sedalia should sponsor the Invitational tournament and invite outstanding teams to participate. In other words, a team's seasonal record should be outstanding before being sent an invitation, and their record of victories should be over teams equal to the Athletics and Blues here in Sedalia, or better.

Sedalia should be Missouri's "Sport Center" and I know of no better time to get it started than now. We hold the annual Lions Basketball tournament here, have had the Semi-Pro tournament, and feel the Junior Legion should be invited to try us out for a baseball tournament, and of course Ban Johnson plays where they have championship teams, and no doubt it'll be here this season.

THIS brings to mind the old saying of Johnny Layton, thirteen times the World's Three-Cushion Billiard champion, "Sedalia is the Capital of the World". And only last week Sedalia lost the man who made it possible for Layton to be champion and "tag" his saying to it, in Charles J. McEniry. We who knew "Charlie" as he was always called loved him for what he was and for what he did.

McEniry did many things for a lot of people which were never public, and when he died last week a lot of people lost a real, sincere friend. One thing for sure, he was a real booster for Sedalia, and Sedalia is going to miss him in more ways than one actually realizes.

I suppose a lot of Smith-Cotton high school students and basketball fans in Sedalia are wondering about this "deal" of the Tigers forfeiting a game to the Missouri Military Academy, and M.M.A. forfeiting to the Tigers. But had they played the games, win, lose or tied, the standing of the Central Missouri Conference would have remained the same, with the Tigers in a tie with Jefferson City for second place. Hannibal has the championship won and tucked away and there wasn't a chance of sneaking it away.

The season results: Hannibal first; Smith-Cotton and Jefferson City, second; then Kemper, M.M.A. and Columbia.

Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow attended the Conference's annual spring meeting at Columbia, and has a press release for Monday on the activity of the Conference for the future, but no release today on agreement of all the coaches to give their daily papers an even break.

ABOUT this time of year I get out on that well known limb and here goes and I have one good supporter in my selection in Mrs. Henry Leist, better known to her many Sedalia friends as "Ma Leist". Yes it's the Cardinals for 1949, in spite of the third place finish the sports writers are giving them.

I noted they are charted with powerful hitting; good pitching; catching poor; infield fair; and outfield good.

Manager Eddie Dyer calls it this "IF" team. Well "IF" they hit as rated, the pitching being good, I don't think the catching will be "too bad", so we'll just pick 'em—how about it "Ma".

The Browns, I won't say will win first place this year, but they will be trouble to a lot of American League teams, and will end better than above the middle mark.

The Oakland Bittners Beat Phillips Oilers

Shatter Six-Year Reign of Oilers Over The A.A.U.

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 19—(AP)—The Oakland Bittners shattered the Phillips Oilers' six-year reign over the National AAU Basketball championship tonight 55-51.

It was a smashing finale to the week-long tournament, the second seeded Bittners overtaking the favored Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., in the second half to win the title.

The victory was sweet revenge for the Bittners. They were defeated in the AAU finals two years ago by Phillips and in the semifinals last year.

It was the Oilers' first loss in their last 32 AAU tournament games.

Peoria Third Place Winner

The post shooting of center George Kok tonight gave the Peoria Caterpillars a 53-44 victory over the Seattle Alpines and third place in the National AAU Basketball tournament.

Kok made the difference in the game preceding the finals match between the defending champions Phillips Oilers and the Oakland Bittners.

Kok scored 17 points.

The Alpines took a brief lead at the start of the game but the Caterpillars had a 28-24 halftime edge.

The score was tied three times during the first 13 minutes.

Sweet Springs Won Tourney

The Sedalia Harvesters were outclassed in the Houstonia Double Elimination Tournament, Saturday night in the finals by Sweet Springs by a score of 56-45.

Sweet Springs took first, Sedalia, second, Hughesville, third, and Houstonia fourth. La Monte Merchants won over Green Ridge for consolation winners.

The Sweet Springs team took the lead and kept it nearly through the game. Sedalia was ahead only once and that was in the second quarter. The intermission score was 25-23 in favor of Sweet Springs.

Sedalia hit for nine points out of 18 for free throws and had 22 fouls called. Sweet Springs tallied 12 out of 22 shots, fouled eleven times during the game.

Gilmore with his deadly shooting of 25 points was the team member who gave Sedalia the most trouble. Mais hit 13 points for high point man for Sedalia. Other Sedalia members scoring were: Parker 10, Whitfield, 11, Dowdy 2, Riley 3, and Morris 4.

Schelp 10, Kueck 7, Crowder 3, Thomas 2, Kurtz 2, Stober 3, and Bohath with one point were the other scorers for Sweet Springs.

'Frisco Wins NIT Tourney Over Loyola U

Bowling Green Wins Third Place Beating Bradley U. 82-77

By Ben Phlegar

NEW YORK, March 10—(AP)—The University of San Francisco won the National Invitation Basketball tournament tonight in the final 58 seconds with a 48-47 decision over Loyola of Chicago.

Bowling Green of Ohio won third place in the National Invitation Basketball tournament tonight by defeating Bradley University, 82-77, before a standing room only crowd of more than 18,000 in Madison Square Garden.

Bradley scored the first three points but trailed from the three-minute mark to the end. Three times the Braves from Peoria, Ill., moved within a point of the towering Falcons, but never could they keep the drive going.

It was a wild contest, filled with spectacular ball handling and wild passes that went nowhere.

Paul Unruh and Charles Grover of Bradley topped the scores with 20 apiece. Chuck Share, 6-11 center from Bowling Green had 17.

New Champs in Chicago Relays

CHICAGO, March 19—(AP)—Seton Hall's Phil Thigpen out-lasted defending champion Jack Dianetti of Michigan State in a stirring stretch battle to win the Harry Gill 1,000-yard run in the Chicago relays tonight. A capacity crowd of 17,000 watched at the Chicago Stadium.

Tigpen led almost from the start and was clocked in the modest time of 2:9 as he staved off Dianetti's final lap bid. The meet record is 2:10.6.

The high jump title, undefended by Dwight Eddelman of Illinois, went to Richard Phillips of Brown with a leap of 6 feet, 4 inches. Jack Heintzman of Bradley and Dave Albritton of the Dayton (Ohio) A. C., also cleared the same height but had one and two misses respectively.

In the first of three matched university mile relays, Purdue triumphed in 3:22.6, followed across by Minnesota, Northwestern and Indiana in that order.

Another champion, Villanova's George Guida, was dethroned in the Frank Hill 600, won by Frank Fox of Seton Hall with a comparatively slow 1:12 clocking. Guida started and finished last in a five-man field.

University of Texas Wins SW Track Meet

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 19—(AP)—University of Texas dethroned Texas A. and M. by two points today to win the university division of the 26th annual southwestern recreation track and field meet.

The 220 yard low hurdles race really decided the issue, but in the end the Longhorns' total was 59½ points to 57½ for the Aggies. The University of Arkansas was third with 13 points.

Texas just about stumbled to a clear title in the university division of the five class track show that had 11 meet and division records broken and two others tied

Conservation Agents Shot Friday Night

First Case Where Agent is Shot in The Act of Duty

CHARLESTON, Mo., March 19—(AP)—Two Missouri Conservation agents were shot last night in what was believed to be the first case where an agent was shot on duty.

In Sikeston Hospital

The men — Roger Reed of Charleston and Ed Hartel of Jackson—were taken to a hospital at Sikeston for treatment.

The agents had sought to question a hunter they found on a farm five miles north of here just before midnight.

The man turned and fired at them without warning. Reed was shot in the legs and Hartel suffered a shotgun wound in his stomach.. Hospital authorities said neither man was in serious condition.

Highway Patrol On Case

Conservation Director I. T. Bode said at Jefferson City that the chief of the agency's protective service, Vernon Bennett, was en route to Charleston to aid highway patrolmen.

Farmers in the area have reported that hunters from Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee have been coming across the Mississippi river and shooting geese at night.

Two men were arrested and fined $10 each last Tuesday for "molesting migratory waterfowl" at night. Several other arrests have been made recently for the same reason, police officers here said.

St. Louis U. Breaks Valley Swim Record

ST. LOUIS, March 19—(AP)—Another conference record was broken as St. Louis University won the 20th annual Missouri Valley swimming meet at the St. Louis school's pool. Four conference records were broken yesterday.

St. Louis tallied 66 points, Detroit 57, Bradley 46 and Tulsa trailed with 10.

Linn Durbin of St. Louis University swam the 100-yard free style in 54.8 seconds. The previous record was set by Bob Cluff of Oklahoma A. and M. in 1940 at 55.3 seconds. Yesterday Durbin broke the 50-yard free style record, covering the distance in 24.1 seconds.

Jim McKenna of St. Louis set the time on a new conference event—the 150-yard individual medley. His time was 1:40.7.

Houtteman on the Road to Recovery

LAKELAND, Fla., March 19—(AP)—The patient was downright frisky, for a young fellow recovering from a skull fracture.

But Art Houtteman, the hospitalized Detroit Tiger pitcher, still looked like the loser of a 15-round slugfest. His left eye sported a brilliant shiner and a cut on his forehead was covered by a gauze patch. Another bandage was on his head back of his left ear.

Young Art talked with two reporters briefly today for the first time since the auto crash 10 days ago in which his skull was fractured.

And even though he was bandaged and bruised, the 21-year-old hurler was very evidently on the road to recovery. His eyes were bright and his mood was jovial.

His father, A. J. Houtteman, said the doctors had told him today that Art might be able to leave the hospital in another week. But so far they haven't permitted him to get out of bed, or even sit up.

Louisiana Derby to Rockwood by 4 Lengths

NEW ORLEANS, March 19—(AP)—Rookwood, Joe W. Brown's bay gelding ran like a greyhound to win the $15,000 added Louisiana derby today by four lengths and shine as a Kentucky derby hopeful.

Jockey J. (Curley) Dalahoussaye, little Cajun country apprentice from New Iberia, La., astride the winner made his first appearance in a derby.

A. P. Porter's Petty Cotter, early pace-setter in the fair grounds mile and one eighth feature, was second, two lengths in front of Great Shuffle.

Ben F. Whitaker's Prince Quest, beaten to the wire by Rookwood last Saturday, was fourth.

Boo Boo Shoo, highly-praised Murray Hill Farm entry and second choice in the betting, was a badly beaten fifth in the eight-horse field of three year olds. Five of the field were Kentucky derby eligibles.

Rookwood the favorite was slow to settle in his gait. But he collared Petey Cotter in the stretch and charged home with a steady, space-chopping stride and was clocked at 1:51 1/5. The track record of 1.59 3/5 was set by Marriage in 1943.

Rookwood paid $6, $3.60 and $3.60.

Cardinals Sign Up A Player And A Scout

NAMPA, Idaho, March 19—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals baseball organization today signed two Nampa men—a player and a scout.

Harold Basey, 20-year old outfielder, batted .413 for Nampa, Idaho semi-pro champion last year. The Cards assigned him to the Willows (Calif.) club of the Class D Far West League.

The scout is Abe Schrimpster, manager of the Nampa semi-pro team for which Basey played. Schrimpster will confine his scouting to the Idaho area.

Oklahoma A-M 55 to 30 Over Oregon State

Qualified for NCAA Finals; Twice The National Champions

KANSAS CITY, March 19—(AP)—The Oklahoma A. and M. Aggies, twice national champions, qualified for the National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball finals by outclassing Oregon State's Beavers 55 to 30 tonight.

Third Western Victory

Winning their third western N. C. A. A. play-off in as many starts, Coach Henry (Hank) Iba's Aggies gained the right to meet the eastern representative for the National Collegiate title in Seattle next Saturday.

The eastern play-offs are scheduled in New York City Monday and Tuesday.

Scoring one of the most decisive victories in history of the western play-offs before a record crowd of more than 10,200 fans the Aggies mastered the Pacific Coast champions from the start.

Arkansas Wins Consolation

In the consolation game, the University of Arkansas Razorbacks whipped Wyoming's Cowboys, 61 to 43.

Bob Harris, the Aggies 6 foot 7 inch center, scored in the opening seconds of play and the Oklahomans steadily moved to a ten point lead, 21 to 11, at the half. After that, it was simply a matter of Iba's team playing their methodical ball control game.

The only team to win two N. C. A. A. championships in 1945 and '46,—Oklahoma A. and M., hit 47 percent of its floor shots, 17 of 38, and missed only 3 out of 19 free throws.

Coach Amory (Slats) Gill substituted a complete team midway of the opening half, but the strategy was to no avail as the methodical Aggies never lost control of the proceedings.

Harris Scores 8 Field Goals

Harris led the scoring with 8 field goals and 7 free throws for 23 points, while Jack Shelton, hero of the Aggies's first round victory over Wyoming, contributed 13.

Jim Crandall, Oregon State's frail forward and an All Pacific Coast star, got eleven points for the Beavers.

Oklahoma A. and M. will enter the finals in Seattle next week with an overall season record of 26 victories and 4 losses. Coach Iba's team, eight times a Missouri Valley Conference champion, got into the playoffs by beating Nebraska, of the Big Seven League, 52 to 35 last Wednesday.

(In the Armory)

Girl's Elimination Battle Royal—Five girl contestants: Kay Simpson, Madison, Wis., Gladys Galento, Council Bluffs, Ia.; Nell Stewart, Akron, O.; Elvira Snodgrass, Gallatin, Tenn., and Mae Weston, Columbus, O. No time limit for battle royal.

Men's Feature Match—Sonny Myers, 230, St. Joseph, Mo., vs. Abe (King Kong) Kashey, 232, Compton, Calif. Best two out of three falls to a finish.

Battle Royal Consolation Match—Second and third girls, pinned in that order, will square off to decide consolation prize money. One fall, or a 30-minute time limit.

Battle Royal Championship Match—Two undefeated finalists will square off to decide championship of battle royal and first and second place prize money. Best two out of three falls to a finish.

Auspices—The American Legion.
Matchmaker—Pearl Christy.
First match Wednesday starts at 8:30 p. m.

Wrestling's greatest thrill attraction—a 5 girl elimination battle royal—will headline Wednesday night's American Legion mat card in the local Armory ring. Five of the nation's foremost feminine wrestlers have been signed by Matchmaker Pearl Christy.

The girls slated to compete for top prize money in the elimination battle are Nellie Sttewart, Helen Hild, Mae Weston, Catherine Simone and the famous hillbilly girl, Elvira Snodgrass.

Under the rules governing a battle royal, the event will get under way with all five girls in the ring at the opening bell. There will be no time limit and the contest will continue until only two girls remain undefeated in the ring. The two unbeaten girls automatically become the battle royal finalists.

The first girl pinned is eliminated for the evening. The second and third girls, pinned in that order, will return for a 1-fall, 30-minute time limit match, to decide consolation prize money.

Girl Champion

Following the consolation match, the two undefeated girl finalists will return to the ring to decide the battle royal championship and top prize money. This match will go the best two out of three falls to a finish.

The men's feature match will pit King Kong Kashey against Sonny Myers. Both Kashey and Myers are gunning for a crack at the heavyweight title and their future status in the contender ranks will hinge on the outcome of their meeting.

Myers is without question the greatest scientific mat expert to emerge out of the post-war era. His mild manner and clean-cut wrestling tactics have made Sonny a great fan favorite. However, against Kashey, the popular Missonrian will be up against a seasoned veteran.

Kashey is rough but is equally clever along with his unorthodox methods. King Kong is determined to keep his record intact and this will make the going pretty tough for Myers.

The Myers-King Kong battle is slated to go the best two out of three falls to a finish.

Phyllis Flory High In Junior Rifle Match

NEVADA, Mo., March 19—(AP)—Miss Phyllis Flory of Lawrence, Kas., shot a score of 184 to win the individual and girl division honors today in the intersectional National Junior Rifle matches here.

More than 75 young shooters from western Missouri and Eastern Kansas competed.

The Nevada Junior Gun club was the high team in the non-military division with a 717 score, followed by another Nevada team with 699.

Kansas City East high school won the military division team honors with 699. Kansas City Southeast was second with 695.

Curtis Brannan, Kansas City Northeast, was runner-up in the individual division with 183, and Marilyn Kaupp, Nevada was second in the girl's division with 181.

The scores will be sent to the National Rifle Association headquarters in Washington for comparison with other intersectional scores. National champions will be named.

Chinese Reds Put the Heat on Nanking Government

As Ho Ying-Chin, Nationalist China's premier, struggles to form a new cabinet, ominous Communist troop movements indicate the Reds are ready to put more squeeze on the Nanking government to force an early surrender. Map shows how Communists are concentrating large forces near the Nationalist capital. In addition, a regional Communist government has been established in areas of three provinces just across the Yangtze River from Nanking.

Southerners Victorious In Civil Rights Battle

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, March 19—(AP)—The Senate's fantastic who-shot-John? drama is over. John was President Truman's civil rights program.

The program, says Democratic leader Lucas, was emblamed last night after three weeks of debate when the drama ended in a stunning victory for the southern Democrats. Southerners weren't officially claiming a victory but Senator Russell of Georgia said "We salvaged as much as we could."

Everyone knew the southerners loaded the pistol. But who really pulled the trigger?

The Trumanite Democrats blamed the Republicans, the Republicans blamed the Democrats for any damage done.

At the end the southerners, who had done the most talking, sat back calm and pleased, while the others argued.

The gigantic gabfest, one of the most unusual performances in Senate history, began Feb. 28.

Splitting Hairs

The senators have been talking since then, filibustering, and filibustering on how to end a filibuster, splitting hairs, carting in huge dictionaries to confound one another with the meaning of words, berating one another, protesting their sincerity in all they were doing, and taking three weeks of talk to find out how to stop talking.

Through it all the galleryites peered down steadily to see where the body was buried. There was more buzz-buzzing by little groups of senators than I have seen in six years in Washington, more little huddles, more heads together, more arms-around-the-shoulder business, more signing of petitions.

On the surface the civil rights program wasn't an issue at all. And some senators even said it wasn't, only to be jibed at by others who said a spade needed to be called a spade.

Many Technical Points

There are too many technical points to go into here, but this is the show in outline:

The Truman Democrats rolled up the curtain in February to set the stage for bringing up the civil rights program later.

Right there the southern Democrats started their filibuster. They knew that if they could throw sand in the machinery now, the civil rights program wouldn't have a chance later.

Instead of forcing the issue—by keeping the Senate in continuous day and night sessions, thus forcing the southerners to wear themselves out talking—Senator Lucas, leader of the Truman Democrats, let all hands go home every evening and rest up for the next day's talk. This was pretty soft on the southerners.

These tactics of Lucas' later brought taunts from the Republican leader, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, that Lucas never really wanted to end the filibuster.

Had Different Ideas

But — when Vice-President Barkley proposed a way to end the filibuster, most of Wherry's Republicans joined the southern Democrats in voting it down. The Republicans said they wanted the filibuster stopped all right, but in a different, more legal way.

Then Lucas taunted the Republicans with insincerity. The southerners, since nothing had been done to stop them, just kept on talking. Meanwhile, all other Senate work piled up.

Last night the Senate finally approved a proposal by Wherry for stopping most, but not all, filibusters. Wherry said it would permit action on civil rights. It works like this:

Two-thirds (64) of the 96 senators, whether the 96 are present or not, must vote to end a filibuster before it can be stopped.

This makes stopping a filibuster even harder to do—and therefore easier for the southerners in the future—than the old rule. But it covers more territory; it can be used to stop debate on a motion. The old rule couldn't.

Under the old rule only two-thirds of those present at voting time could stop a filibuster if a bill were pending. For example: two-thirds of 50 could do it. But now, if only 64 senators are present, all 64 must vote yes.

Drive-In Theatre Going Up

The highway fifty Drive-In Theater that is being erected on a 15-acre tract, west of town, at the apex of Main street road and highway 50, is nearing completion. The Hogan Construction company has been working during the cold weather and expects to have the theater completed by the latter part of April.

This new Drive-In Theater will be one of the more modern theaters in this part of the country. The screen tower is sixty-five feet high and will receive a projected screen image of forty by sixty feet. There are one hundred yards of concrete used in the screen base and is so constructed to withstand winds up to one hundred miles an hour.

Sound for the movies will reach the patrons by means of "in car speakers." Over nine thousand feet of cable are being used to connect these speakers that will service a five hundred car capacity audience.

Facilities for the convenience of the patrons will include a children's playground, refreshment booth and landscaped grounds.

This theater is being erected by the Sedalia Drive-In Theater Corporation.

Social Events

Miss Rosalie Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Edward Roberts, of Route One, Sedalia, was married to Mr. Robert F. Ramey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Van Ramey, of Route Five, Sedalia, at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning, March 17, by the Rev. Walter P. Arnold, at his home, in a double ring ceremony.

The couple was attended by the bridegroom's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Hieronymus.

The bride wore a grey and Navy blue suit with accessories of the same color. Her corsage was of white roses. Mrs. Roberts attended Smith-Cotton high school.

The bridegroom attended the Hughesville high school and was in the United States Army for three and one half years.

The Fortnightly Book Club will meet Tuesday at 2:15 o'clock with Mrs. A. A. Ferguson, 1600 West Seventh street. There will be a book discussion.

SEE IT NOW

It's the great New Plymouth —engineered from the inside out to give you the greatest Plymouth value in history!

Built to ride in

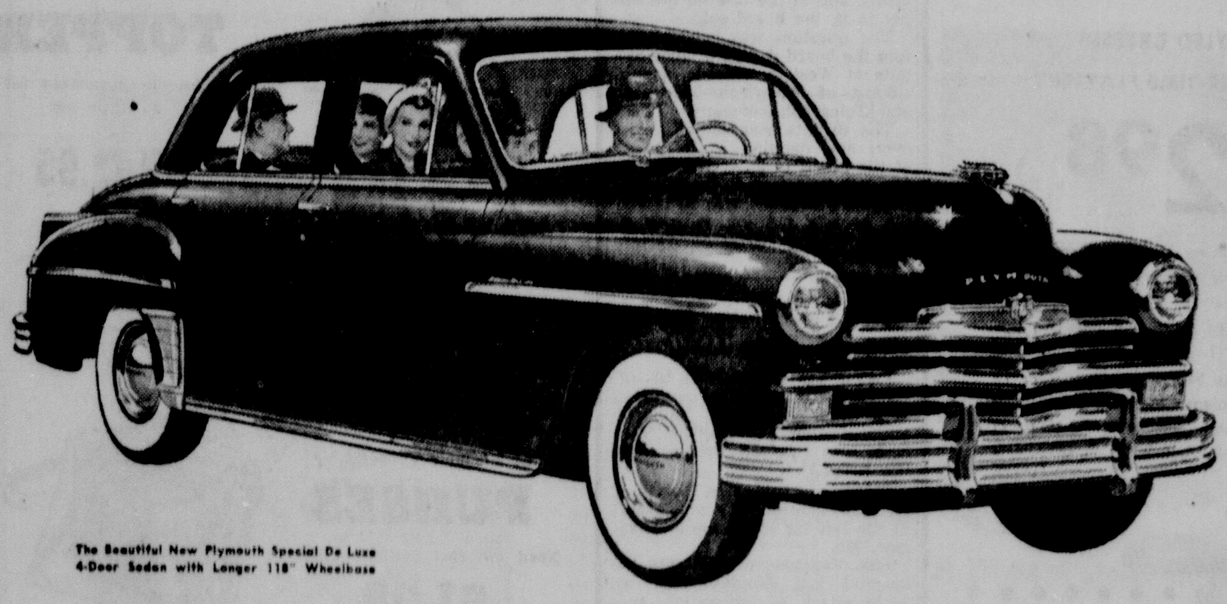

This great new car is the product of engineers who cling stubbornly to one idea! That new cars are made—above all else—to ride in. New features must combine to make motoring easier, safer, more pleasant. That's exactly what the great New Plymouth does!

Its beauty belongs

The new beauty really belongs in the New Plymouth. The sweeping, new low lines mark the outer form of a car that's easy to drive, easy to park, easy to put in the garage. Fenders blend beautifully into the body, but they're separate and detachable for economical repair.

Room you use

Outside dimensions have been reduced—to make driving easier. But inside—where you ride—those famous chair-height seats are even wider! Long legs stretch out, high hats stay put. Diagonally mounted rear shock absorbers reduce sidesway. You ride in quiet comfort.

The Beautiful New Plymouth Special De Luxe 4-Door Sedan with Longer 118" Wheelbase

Far better vision

Both windshield and rear window are larger in the New Plymouth. Your "eyeline" passes over the curving low hood to a clear, undistorted view of the road. In fact, the entire exterior of this car is designed to give you far better vision in all directions—day and night.

More powerful engine

Newly designed cylinder head, higher compression ratio, new intake manifold—these new features combine to give the New Plymouth a livelier, more powerful engine. New chrome compression ring reduces wear on the cylinder walls, helps prolong engine life.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

If you haven't seen this great new value car, stop at your Plymouth dealer's now. From bumper to bumper it's a greatly improved Plymouth. And millions of motorists know that when you improve a Plymouth—you've got an automobile!

NOW THERE'S MORE DIFFERENCE THAN EVER IN LOW-PRICED CARS—AND THE GREAT NEW PLYMOUTH MAKES THE DIFFERENCE!

Five Million Suit on Clerks

NEW YORK, March 19—(AP)—The Railway Express Agency Friday filed a $5,000,000 damage suit against an AFL Clerks union which has been involved in a dispute with the company.

A union slowdown had led to a company layoff of 9,000 employes in the metropolitan area. The union claimed the layoff was a "lockout."

The express agency said in its suit that the slowdown had caused a complete tieup of normal agency business here.

The suit was filed in federal court.

Earlier, an official of the union, the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, said $20,000,000 worth of merchandise had piled up at agency depots here. He also predicted the tieup would "spread a great deal further."

The dispute between the union and company arose over contract negotiations, which were opened last April. The union accused the company of stalling.

Terms sought by the union are a 25-cent increase in hourly pay now ranging from $1.32 to $1.34 and a reduction in the work week from 44 to 40 hours. The company has offered a 7-cent wage boost.

Reach Accord On Wheat

Agreement by 46 Nations on the Export Issue

WASHINGTON, March 19—(AP) Forty-six nations Friday reached a new international wheat agreement.

J. C. Van Essche of Belgium said that the pact calls for five exporting nations to supply approximately 450,000,000 bushels of wheat annually for four years to 41 wheat importing nations.

He said it calls for a ceiling price of $1.80 a bushel for each of the four years and a floor of $1.50 for the first year, dropping 10 cents annually to $1.20 in the fourth year.

That means exporting nations contract to charge no more than the ceiling regardless of the market price; the importing nations promise to pay at least the floor.

Van Essche said the pact was concluded without the participation of Russia and Argentina.

Under the agreement, five nations—the United States, Canada, Australia, France and Uruguay,—will supply 41 importers.

Whether or not Poland and Yugoslavia, Pussia satellite nations, will buy wheat under the pact if Russia does not participate is not known at the present time.

The pact becomes effective only when ratified by the home governments of the negotiating countries.

In the case of the United States, the Senate must approve it.

A similar agreement—except that it carried a $2 a bushel ceiling—was negotiated last year, but the Senate failed to approve it.

At the $1.80 figure, the government could expect to lose about 16 cents a bushel or more on all wheat exported from the United States in the first year of the agreement's operation. Its support price on the new wheat crop is expected to be about $1.96 a bushel. That is, the government will guarantee to pay farmers $1.96 but under the agreement would contract to export it for $1.80.

President Truman's budget has an item of $56,000,000 for anticipated costs of the wheat agreement.

Russia refused to enter the agreement because of dissatisfaction with the proposed Soviet export allowance.

Holdup Youth Sues Railway

WASHINGTON, March 19—(AP)—One of two young men charged with the holdup of a Baltimore & Ohio train filed a $50,000 damage suit against the railroad Friday. He said he was an "infant" and that the company was responsible for his conduct because it served him drinks.

George L. "Duke" Ashton, who said he was 20 years old, declared the train robbery was "solely due to the negligence of the railroad."

Ashton and Luman "Skip" Ransdell, 22, also charged with the robbery, were arrested in Washington the day after the holdup. Ramsdell is in a hospital as the result of a bullet wound received in his capture.

Ashton's suit, filed by his attorney, John M. Webster, alleges that he was served several drinks on the B & O's Ambassador Limited on March 9, the day of the robbery.

Then, the suit said, one of the railroad agents "obviously aware that plaintiff then was intoxicated and in an insouciant condition, permitted himself to become involved in an argument with plaintiff over the drinks which were then and there on the table in the state of West Virginia, contrary to both law and prudent judgment."

The holdup occurred near Martinsburg, W. Va. Passengers and crewmen said the robbers took about $1,000 from them.

Out of Window After Car Upset

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Liebeck, and their two children of New Cambria, Mo., crawled through a rear window of their automobile, uninjured after the car dived off the pavement and flipped over on its top, Friday morning shortly before noon on highway 65, about 10 miles south of Sedalia.

The family was heading toward Sedalia in a 1947 Plymouth sedan. Mr. Liebeck told highway patrolmen that he hit a slick spot on the pavement of the highway, and that he lost control of the car, causing it to roll over into a ditch and landing top side down.

The wrecked car was towed to the Bryant Motor company, Second street and Kentucky avenue. The top and right side of the vehicle was repaired that afternoon, and the Liebeck family continued on their way.

Not Utility by Law of State

JEFFERSON CITY, March 19—(AP)—The State Board of Mediation ruled Friday Western Electric company is not a utility under Missouri law. Because of this provisions of the King-Thompson utility anti-strike law do not apply to it, the board said.

The question was brought before the board during a labor dispute at Western Electric, a subsidiary of American Telephone and Telegraph company.

The dispute was settled, however, and decision as to power of the board to enter the dispute was not necessary at that time.

Today's decision was to clarify the board's position in case of future labor troubles at Western Electric.

Gen. Vaughan's Mother Out of Hospital

FAYETTE, Mo., March 19—(AP)—Mrs. Bettie Vaughan, mother of Maj. Gen. Harry S. Vaughan, military aide to President Truman, was released Friday from Lee hospital.

Physicians said Mrs. Vaughan, 86, was "considerably improved," as she left for her home at Glasgow, Mo.

Mrs. Vaughan, who entered the hospital last Sunday after an acute attack of indigestion, suffered a fracture of the left wrist last Tuesday when she fell from her bed.

Gen. Vaughan and a daughter, Mrs. Harry Foster, St. Louis, accompanied their mother to Glasgow.

Will Still Have A Big Shillalah

WASHINGTON, March 19—(AP)—Rep. Short (R-Mo) told the House that while he agrees that a 70-group air force is necessary, he does not fear an attack on the United States by Russia "or any other imaginable enemy so much as I fear weakness within."

"All our railroad wrecks, our fires and explosions that are going on today—you read it every day in your paper — are not accidental," the Missourian said in debate on legislation authorizing a 70-group air force.

"I fear the vermin that shall undermine senate and school and citadel and shrine. I fear the vermin of fraud, the fatted worm of ease, and all the crawling progeny of these. I fear the vermin that shall honeycomb the walls and towers of state in unsuspected hours. x x x

"We are going to make ourselves invincible to attack from any quarter. We shall continue to trust God, but we will keep our powder dry. We shall speak softly, but we will carry a pretty big shillalah.

"If we are wise, we will, because the only language that some marauders, robbers, and bandits in this world understand—and we have them in practically every country—x x x the only language they know is force. They respect strength but they have contempt for weakness."

While the House committee on un-American activities has made mistakes and "will make more," he said, the committee has done "an un-welcome but an invaluable and necessary job."

'Sermons in Stone'

Alabama Monk's Miniature 'Religious City' Is a History of the World's Christianity

Brother Joseph Zoettl and his Temple at Jerusalem: In 30 years, he built a model city to preach his "Sermons In Stone."

By Monte M. Katterjohn
NEA Special Correspondent

CULLMAN, Ala.—(NEA)—The history of the Christian religion, from the unfinished Tower of Babel to American citadels of the faith, will greet visitors to St. Bernard College this Easter.

Faithfully reproduced in scale model—some actually containing bits of material from the famous originals—are hundreds of the buildings that have marked the upward advance of Christianity throughout the world.

They are the labor of love of a 71-year-old monk, Brother Joseph Zoettl, who operates the Benedictine Abbey's power plant, teaches and for 36 years has built his "religious city" along flower-bedecked paths that lead through a four-acre park to Ava Maria Grotto.

As a lad of 14 Brother Joseph came to this country from Bavaria, and in 1892 enrolled in the then new high school at St. Bernard Abbey that since has become a junior college. Five years later he entered the monastery. Something over 30 years ago he got the idea he could teach religion through models of sacred buildings.

Most significant of his reproductions is not a building at all, but Calvary, with its three crosses. There are, among other things, the Temple of Jerusalem, measuring 61 inches across its front, Monte Cassino monastery in Italy, mother house of the Order of St. Benedict, which was bombed to rubble in World War II; the Catacombs in Rome; the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, one of the seven wonders of the ancient world; the Alamo, where gallant Texans died to the last man resisting the Mexican General Santa Anna; the Mission Dolores, built by Franciscan friars as San Francisco was just coming into existence.

These models are set along paths lined with evergreen and rose bushes, against a backdrop of rock- and forest-clad hillside. Each is built to scale in stone, concrete, tile, shell, beads. The beautiful Ava Maria Grotto, at which the paths center, features a stone figure of the Blessed Virgin.

The late Abbot Bernard Monges lived to see the first cluster of Brother Joseph's reproductions, "Little Jerusalem," on the school's recreation grounds. It inspired him to conceive the idea for the grotto, but he did not live to see Brother Joseph's fulfillment of his dream.

Siam Kills Off Its Dogs

BANGKOK—(AP)—In past years all a sick dog here could do was to wander hopelessly, waiting to get killed by an automobile driver. Now Bangkok had added three more dog poisoners to its squad of six. The nine-man "humane squad" starts each day with sacks of chopped meat mixed with strychnine tablets and feed the emaciated and wretchedly ill canines.

Hal Boyle Says

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, March 19—(AP)—One of the mysterious things about the mysterious east is that comparatively few Chinese have heart disease or uucers.

This cheerful fact is partly responsible for a boom in Chinese restaurants. People come to them in the hope that if they eat like the Chinese they'll feel as good as the Chinese.

"Now there are more than a thousand Chinese restaurants around New York," said Jimmy Yoeng, a patriarch in his field.

Jimmy, a smiling, ageless gnome who weighs only 110 pounds with a chopstick in each hand, is perhaps the man here who did most to transform the old off-the-Bowery Chinese suey parlor. He moved it uptown, kicked out the teakwood and mother-of-pearl tables, modernized it, and put in dance band music.

Order Twin Standbys

"Thirty to forty years ago many decent people wouldn't go into a Chinese restaurant," he smiled. "They didn't think it was respectable. All that is changed now."

Today, Yoeng said, only "newcomers and schoolchildren" order the twin standbys of the oldtime Chinese restaurant — chop suey and chow mein.

"People now want to eat real Chinese dishes—the dishes we eat ourselves."

His own favorite is chow sang gai pan, described an his Lun Far restaurant menu as "fresh white meat of chicken deliciously sauted with hearts of bok choy, bamboo shoots, mater chestnuts, fresh muchrooms and a touch of ginger."

Many Patrons Are Doctors

American doctors have a high rate of heart disease. It is perhaps more than a coincidence, then, that many of Jimmy's patrons are doctors.

"One doctor has sent me more than 50 of his patients who suffer from high blood pressure," he said. "I order the meals for many of them. After I talk to them a few minutes I can tell what is good for them."

Jimmy believes Cantonese cooking is the healthiest in the world because of its variety, and because it always combines vegetables with meat.

"In American cooking meat is usually fried, baked or broiled," he said. "But Chinese cooks can prepare meat from 50 to 75 different ways."

Soup $30 a a Bowl

Yoeng thinks there is no place in the world for gourmets like Canton, his old home town in southern China.

"There is nothing anywhere to equal its shark fin soup. But it is expensive—$30 a bowl."

Jimmy is convinced after a lifetime in the business that Americans eat too much—and too often.

"No one can really understand your digestion but yourself," he said, "If your digestion is poor, eat more vegetables. If it is good, then you can eat more meat.

"Sometimes people complain that two hours after they eat in a Chinese restaurant they are hungry again. They should be grateful for that."

Suggests Moderation

Jimmy's solution for all mankind's stomach ills is "moderation." For people who need building up he has a preparation of chicken, ginger, garlic and a special kind of dark vinegar imported from China.

"I take it myself," he said. "I'm getting to the age where I need it. After two bowls, I feel wonderful."

Aside from a diet high in herbs and vegetables, he feels Chinese are safeguarded against heart ailments because they don't fret as much as the worry-prisoners of the western world.

"I have had ten thousand people work for me," he said. "And I don't have an enemy. I never criticize anybody."

A sudden blot in the brain struck down an elderly civil engineer at the peak of his career.

In time he came—on a stretcher—to the Manhattan Beach veterans' hospital in Brooklyn. He found company there among its "forgotten men," graduates of the First and Second World War with ailments so serious their recovery chances were doubtful.

And he found women there who were willing to spend endless time to help him find his voice again. They were volunteer Gray Ladies from the Brooklyn chapter of the Red Cross.

They took him into a small room for treatment of victims of aphasia, the loss or impairment of speech that comes from certain illnesses and brain injuries. It was a bright sunny room, but the engineer felt alone and lost. He wanted to be by himself.

"He would get hysterical and weep," recalled Miss Elizabeth Kelly, one of the Gray Ladies.

Watched Other Patients

The engineer watched morosely as Miss Kelly and Florence Conklin, another volunteer, held up small cards on which words had been printed. He saw other patients pronounce anew the words —"book" "bird," "eat" — simple childhood words that had become lost in the broken pattern of the vocal paths in their brains.

There was a young combat veteran who had been struck by shrapnel. He learned 400 words in a year. There was little Frankie, a veteran of the first war who learned to walk after being paralyzed for 12 years.

Frankie, the hospital's best morale builder, inched on tortured feet to the engineer, as he did to all the other patients, and mumbled to him through a thick tongue:

Finally He Tried

"Fight! Fight! Fight!"

And gradually the engineer summoned up the will to try—to fight to overcome the damage wrought by the hidden enemy in him, a broken blood vessel. There was nothing wrong with his intelligence. He could still understand. He could still read. But he couldn't even pronounce his own name.

"That is what often comes back to them first—the ability to speak their own names and the names of those they love," said Bernard Felsenstein, chief of education therapy at the hospital.

Word by word the engineer worked to recover his broken vocabulary. Miss Kelly and Miss Conklin worked with him alternately, week after week, as long as his strength permitted. Sometimes he learned a word only to lose again the ability to say it—the vocal pattern had clouded once more.

Home For Easter

Recently the engineer passed a milestone on his road to recovery. He turned to Miss Conklin and said unexpectedly:

"I'm going home for Easter."

Only five words—but they were the first complete sentence he had spoken in more than two years. And the engineer will be home for easter, able to talk in some degree with his family. There is hope he will attain almost complete recovery—as some aphasia victims do.

"I've seen some wonderful things happen here," said Miss Kelly, a retired schoolteacher. And she and the other Gray Ladies have helped them to happen.

"What do these people here have to do to get well?" an attendant asked Frankie as he sat down for a lesson.

"Fight! Fight! Fight!" said the gray-haired little veteran. It is the word he says most often because it has kept him alive and hopeful.

Sometime, if you think the world has kicked you around, go out to a veterans hospital—and get a lesson in courage.

Private Builders Take up 'Low Cost' Challenge

Answer Sought in 50-House Detroit Experiment

One of 50 model low-cost homes in the demonstration being conducted by the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit, this two-bedroom house sells for $6,900, built on the buyer's own lot. Erected by R. M. Lockwood, president of the National Association of Home Builders, it could be expanded by adding a breezeway and connecting garage.

By S. Burton Heath
NEA Staff Correspondent

ROYAL OAK, MICH—(NEA)—Fifty major Detroit builders have got together to prove by deeds—not by words—that they can provide houses to fit any purse.

In a development here, sponsored by the Builders Association of Metropolitan Detroit, they are erecting houses to sell for $4178 to $7610 without land, or from $4900 to $8500 with lot.

The houses are approved for FHA financing. Down payments on most of them would run between $1000 and $1500, including the cost of obtaining a mortgage, for non-veterans. The cost to veterans would be substantially less.

Carrying charges, including interest and payments on principal, run from $19 to $34 a month.

Specifically, there is an expansible house built by R. M. Lockwood, who is president of the National Association of Home Builders. It sells for $6950, built on the buyer's own lot.

A veteran could move in for a down payment of $100 plus mortgage costs. The civilian would have to put up $950 plus mortgage costs, against which he could credit the value of his lot. Monthly payments of $52 cover interest, payments on principal, taxes and insurance.

This is not a real estate development for sales purposes, but a demonstration of what private builders can do without government money. It is advanced frankly as an answer to those who claim that government building is the only way of getting houses for the lower income classes.

The Builders Association bought land in the Maple Crest subdivision of Royal Oak, which is a separate city entirely surrounded by Detroit, and divided it into 137 lots ranging from 50 to 68 feet in width.

A few of the lots already had been built on. Areas in the subdivision have been reserved for school and recreational use. Water, sewers and sidewalks are in. The streets are graveled and well-drained.

A nationally-known architectural firm provided six different floor plans, and three "front elevations" for each. This gives 18 different types of house. By distributing them carefully and using different exterior finishes, the development was kept from looking like one.

The lots were offered to builder members who chose to joint in the demonstration, and 50 did. Forty have built one house each, but some have built two or several, so that at last count 60 houses were enclosed—including some ready for occupancy—and 30 more were in earlier stages of construction. By this time another 35 should have been started.

A few have been sold, but that is not their purpose. Until the houses have shown what can be done, the majority will be held for that purpose. Some of the builders are taking orders to duplicate their demonstration houses on buyers' lots elsewhere.

It is up to each builder to fix his own price. Those mentioned are actual prices placed on houses built in the project.

The $4178 house, lowest priced of all, is completely finished outside. It has plumbing and electrical installations, and there are doors on kitchen, bathroom and bedroom. But it has no heating plant, and much finishing work is needed inside.

It is offered for the benefit of handy men with limited incomes, who are willing to use space heaters temporarily and want to save money by doing much of the finishing work themselves.

Finished houses include forced air heating, as do some that are sold partially finished. All plans call for two bedrooms and living room, but no basement. Dining facilities are included with living rooms, and laundries with kitchens.

The ground has been insulated, and the space between ground and floor sealed. This is said to give remarkable heating efficiency, with barely three degrees difference between floors and ceilings.

Five of the floor plans are bungalow style, but one provides for an unfinished attic that can be developed into additional sleeping quarters. This is the plan which, in general, offers a house completely finished, with heating and washer and drier, for $7300 plus the cost of land.

Houses priced like these are described as the answer to the needs of families in the $3000-a-year class. In three counties in the Detroit area, it is estimated there are 100,000 families that would like such houses in the next five years.

But the Association says they cannot have them, because of restrictive building codes, zoning regulations, FHA procedure and financing limitations.

New Moscow Play Raps U. S. Justice

MOSCOW—(AP)—A new play about the United States—"The Crime of Director Riggs"—has opened in Moscow.

The time is the last years of the war when Roosevelt was alive.

Riggs, the hero of the play, lives in a small city where he teaches school. The town's "boss" is a Senator. He is pictured as "the servant of Wall Street."

The play deals with the conflict between Riggs and the Senator and ends up, according to a local critic, showing "how horrible is the machine of justice in the USA."

The Cossacks, who had some degree of independence, supplied the Russian Empire with cavalry and scouts in lieu of paying taxes.

The turkey is the only native American representative of the pheasant family and once roamed wild over much of North America.

Edelweiss, low growing flower of the high mountains of Switzerland, is protected by law because of its rarity.

Disabled Vet Gets New Home

KALISPELL, Mont.—(AP)—Bernard Stender, a totally disabled war veteran, has moved into a new house built entirely with funds and labor donated by fellow townsmen.

Stender, a Navy deep sea diver, suffered a broken back in 1943 when a pile driver fell on him while working underwater on the ill-fated Normandie in New York harbor. After a long tour of government hospitals he returned to his native Kalispell three years ago.

A citizens' homebuilding committee collected about $7,000 including $2,500 from the B. P. O. Elks Club. Craftsmen contributed their labor and Mayor Dave S. Cameron donated the home site.

Extra large rooms were built to permit easy movement of Stender's wheelchair. An elevator was provided for traveling between floors and all interior arrangements were designed to accommodate a wheelchair patient. Stender is able to use his arms but not his legs.

A floor-level attached garage was provided for his late model car equipped with special operating devices.

Czechs Collect in Sports Pool

PRAUGE—(AP)—More than 100,000 Czechs have won money in "Staska," the state betting pool on athletic events inaugurated last fall.

The pool has been endangered several times. The complaint first was that the first prizes were too high. They were slashed from 2,000,000 crowns ($40,000) about 40,000 crowns ($800). Later there were complaints that workers spent too much time trying to figure out pool winners and production suffered.

But autnorities fought off attempts to halt the betting because it was attracting a great deal of paper money out of circulation, something that was very desirable, and it was bringing in money for the state controlled sports program.

Mlada Fronta, youth newspaper, figured that 80,000,000 crowns ($1,600,000) was distributed by the state treasury out of the pool receipts, to help build and repair stadiums and fields, and stimulate a mass sports program.

Poland Underground Activity

WARSAW, Poland — (AP) — Gen. Franciszek Jozwiak, commander-in-chief of the Polish militia, reported underground bands killed 122 volunteer militiamen in the last three years.

Jozwiak said the citizens' volunteer militia reserve, generally known as "Ormo," included among its membership 84,000 peasants and workers.

The militiamen killed lost their lives in battling underground bands preceding the national referendum in Poland on June 30, 1946, and the general parliamentary elections on Jan. 19, 1947.

The "Ormo" also was widely used in 1948 to smash illegal distilleries of vodka. A total of 863 moonshine stills were seized by the militiamen.

Wire-Tappers Listen in High Places

N. Y. Mayor Not First Big Victim, Eavesdroppers Listened in on Men Like FDR, Farley, Eisenhower

By S. Burton Heath
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, — The great City Hall wire-tapping mystery has been unravelled in New York in a furore of subpoenas, grand jury indictments and indignation as frenzied as if telephone eavesdropping never before happened in such high places.

But New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer is not the first—nor the top—public official to find his telephone wires tapped. As an ex-cop who won his big reputation as a prosecutor of thugs and gangsters, the mayor doesn't have to be told how much damage can be picked out of telephone conversations to embarrass even an honest politician.

Moreover, O'Dwyer must run for re-election this fall, and he knows that both Republicans and many of the independents who kept LaGuardia in City Hall for 12 years are after his scalp. The anti-O'Dwyer campaign being conducted with great fanfare by millionaire reformer Clendenin J. Ryan has become mixed up with the wire tapping mystery, but other quiet investigations of the Wire-tappers' wires were the tell-tale evidence of eavesdropping discovered by Manhattan Borough President Hugo Rogers in the basement of his New York apartment. Along with Mayor William O'Dwyer, he was one of the officials whose phones were tapped in a mystery that raised a furore in New York City Hall.

Equipment seized by police in New York's wire-tapping mystery is examined by Mayor William O'Dwyer (right), whose phone was among the tappers' targets and Irving Saypol, a U. S. Attorney.

O'Dwyer administration have been reported under way, too.

Among the victims of wire tapping experts Mayor O'Dwyer is ranked pretty high. He is more prominent, for instance, than was the late Mayor Thomas P. McCoy of Pawtucket, R. I., whose wires were tapped by private detectives hired by Gov. William H. Vanderbilt of Rhode Island in 1939. The McCoy-Vanderbilt case had repercussions in Washington and resulted in a full-dress investigation by a Senate committee.

O'Dwyer ranks right alongside former Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes and ex-Postmaster-General-Democratic Nat'l Chairman James A. Farley, whose wires were tapped in Washington.

But by no stretch of the imagination does he rank with the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose telephone wires were tapped back in 1934-35 by a bored telephone company watchman, who couldn't think of anything better to do in the lonely hours than listen in on the White House.

For that matter, one of O'Dwyer's better known predecessors, the late Jimmy Walker, was a victim of wire tappers. Somebody broke the padlock off the main terminal box in City Hall basement and ran a couple of lines so that he could sit at ease, far away, and listen in on any call into or out of the Hall.

There was one wire that Jimmy imagined was safe. It was a special line to the police commissioner, direct, protected with lead. When police specialists were looking over the situation who needn't take a back seat to O'Dwyer was General of Armies Dwight Eisenhower. While he was in Florida resting, after the war, Herbert Bayard Swope, former newspaper editor who had served as special consultant to the war department, telephone to Eisenhower and next day it was discovered the call had been tapped.

Wire-tapping has been in low repute for a long time—certainly since the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, in a 4-5 Supreme court minority opinion, denounced it as a "dirty business." In many states it is illegal, in most it is restricted by law or judicial practice. In federal courts wire-tap evidence is not admissible.

Yet the business goes on, and criminals are trapped by its regularly. Even if direct evidence is not produced, it often tells detectives to look for proof that they can use.

The New York constitution permits it only for law enforcement purposes, by special permission of judges who must be told in advance what wires are to be tapped, whose conversation listened to, and why.

Yet not long ago detectives, with a court order, seeking evidence in connection with bookmaking, stumbled onto a swank call-house operation. They arrested Mrs. Nancy Choremi, sloe-eyed 27-year-old wife of a wealthy Egyptian and daughter of an American career diplomat and two other women. All were convicted, though the permission to tap had nothing to do with even the suspicion of prostitution.

One illegal wire-tapper who got away with it was a 16-year-old boy in Seattle, who suspected his girl friend's constancy. He put a tap on her home telephone and arranged for a friend to ask her for a date. Unfortunately, police found the tap before the lad ever did learn if his girl was doing him wrong.

ped that line several times myself," he said.

Walker and his official family suspected at the time, that Congressman LaGuardia, who was trying to defeat him for re-election, was responsible—or maybe Judge Samuel Seabury, whose investigation resulted in 1932 in Walker's removal. But 20 years later Charles Hand, who had been Walker's secretary, said it turned out to have been a high ranking police official who just wanted to know what was going on.

Another victim of wire-tapping the mayor's secretary remarked that this line, at least, had escaped. The cop grinned.

"You think so? Why, I've tap-
